NO. 13 AUBURN FACES FIRST ROAD TEST AT NO. 10 MISSOURI

There's still a buzz around Auburn after the gymnastics team knocked off No. 4 LSU with a season-high score of 196.700 on Friday night. It's the first time the Tigers have started a season 2-0 since 2016.

However, the focus has already shifted away from LSU and is now squarely on Saturday's meet at Missouri.

It will be the team's first road meet of the season after winning the first two at home, and Auburn head coach Jeff Graba reminded his team Monday that the postseason won't take place in Auburn Arena. The Tigers have to learn how to go on the road and compete in different environments, beginning this Saturday.

"It's going to be a big test," Graba said. "It's going to be a crazy weekend. It's an afternoon meet. So there a lot of different things going on. But really it's very simple: we have to do what we did on Friday night, and we probably have to over perform that a little bit on Saturday just to rise to the occasion."

IN THE RANKINGS

After Auburn posted a 196.700 to knock off No. 4 LSU on Friday night, it was no surprise to see the Tigers move up four spots to No. 13 this week per the Women's Collegiate Gymnastics Association.

All eight teams from the SEC are now ranked in the Top 20 after Florida made its season debut Friday and jumped all the way to No. 3 in the rankings. LSU dropped a spot to No. 5 while Georgia are Missouri and tied at No. 10. Following those four is Auburn (No. 13), Arkansas (No. 14), Kentucky (No. 16) and Alabama (t-No. 17). Nationally, Oklahoma and UCLA stayed put at No. 1 and No. 2 respectively, and Utah (No. 4) also made the Top 5 for the second straight week.

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA
›› The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed seven sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING MISSOURI

The Missouri gymnastics program is on the rise under sixth-year head coach Shannon Welker. The Tigers finished 9-7 a year ago, including a 4-1 mark at home with wins over No. 5 Florida and No. 10 Arkansas.

This year's team opened at No. 19 in the rankings but has since moved up to No. 10 following strong performances the first two weeks. The Tigers won a quad meet with Arizona State, Minnesota and Illinois-Chicago to start the season and then posted a 196.450 in a loss at Florida last week.

In the loss to Florida, Missouri scored a 49.000 or better on all four events, including a team-best 49.200 on floor. Junior Aspen Tucker led the way on floor with a 9.875.

Freshman Hannah McCrary shared the vault title against Florida with a 9.875 in just her second collegiate meet.

After the first meet, senior Britney Ward was named the SEC Specialist of the Week thanks to a 9.950 on beam. She earned All-SEC honors on the event last year.

AUBURN/MISSOURI SERIES HISTORY

Auburn is 26-9 all-time against Missouri, which includes a perfect 7-0 mark at home and a 12-1 record at neutral sites. The first loss came in last year's SEC championship.

The two sides met last year in what was the first SEC meet for both teams, and Auburn earned a 196.625-194.975 victory at home. Two years prior, the Tigers posted a 197.200 — the fifth-highest overall score in team history — to beat Missouri inside Auburn Arena.

Auburn is 7-8 all-time in Columbia, including a loss in 2017, but the team score in 2015 (196.875) is the fourth-highest score away from home in program history.

AUBURN LINEUP VS. LSU

If it's not broke, don't fix it. The Auburn coaching staff might experiment on a couple different routines this weekend, but the lineup for Saturday looks largely similar to the lineup they used to beat LSU on Friday.

Auburn will begin the meet on bars, and after earning the second-highest score in program history (49.500) last week, no changes will be made to the lineup

Sophomore Drew Watson will lead things and will be followed by senior Taylor Krippner, freshman Derrian Gobourne and senior Samantha Cerio. Watson, Krippner and Cerio all scored a 9.900 last week, and Gobourne wasn't far behind with a 9.875. Next up is senior Abby Milliet, who won the event title against LSU with a team-best 9.925. Then it will be anchor Gracie Day, who has an average of 9.838 through the first two meets.

The second rotation for Auburn will be on vault, and that lineup will also remain the same after the Tigers posted a season-best 49.125 the week before.

Junior Katie Becker will lead off for the second straight week, and then it will be Day, a 2018 All-SEC performer on the event, followed by A'Miracal Phillips and Gobourne. Fifth will be Watson, who currently leads the team and is ranked top 20 nationally with an average of 9.863 through two meets, and the team will close the event with sophomore Jada Glenn.

The first sign of changes for Auburn will come on floor, the third rotation, with junior Emma Slappey making her 2019 season debut and starting things off for the Tigers. Slappey finished last year with eight scores of 9.8 or higher on floor.

Junior Skyler Sheppard will follow in second and then Watson, who went fifth last week, will move up to the third spot. Next up is Gobourne, who won the individual title on floor against LSU, with a 9.950, and the Tigers will finish up with two seniors, Milliet (No. 5) and Cerio (No. 6).

The final rotation of the meet will come on beam where Auburn is currently tops in its region and ranked No. 8 nationally with an average score of 49.075 through two meets.

The first two in the lineup will not change with Watson and Gobourne. But then it will be Milliet moving up one spot and switching with Krippner, who falls to the fourth slot. Next up is sophomore Meredith Sylvia, the team's anchor on the event the first two meets. Instead, Sheppard will move back one spot and serve as the anchor against Missouri.

Sheppard, Sylvia and Milliet are all currently ranked in the Top 35 nationally on beam this season.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn's 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

All eight Southeastern Conference schools rank in the Top 20 in this week's rankings. Auburn still has two conference opponents scheduled to come to Auburn Arena with No. 10 Georgia (Jan. 25) and No. 14 Arkansas (Feb. 15).

QUEEN DERRIAN

It was a special night for freshman Derrian Gobourne on Friday. Competing in the all-around for the first time, she shared the AA title with the reigning SEC Gymnast of the Year, Sarah Finnegan of LSU. Both finished with a 39.475.

Gobourne won two individual event titles with a 9.900 on vault and a 9.950 on floor that all but sealed the victory for the Tigers. She also posted a 9.875 on bars and made her beam debut with a 9.750. The freshman is currently ranked in the top 40 nationally on vault, bars and floor, and she's No. 11 in the country on all-around after the last meet.

On Tuesday, she was named the SEC Freshman of the Week.

BAR SQUAD

Auburn found its groove on the uneven bars Friday night as gymnast after gymnast stuck their landing against LSU.

The rotation started with sophomore Drew Watson, who stuck the landing and scored a 9.900. Then it was senior Samantha Cerio who earned a 9.900. Freshman Derrian Gobourne went next with a 9.875 before senior Taylor Krippner added a third 9.900.
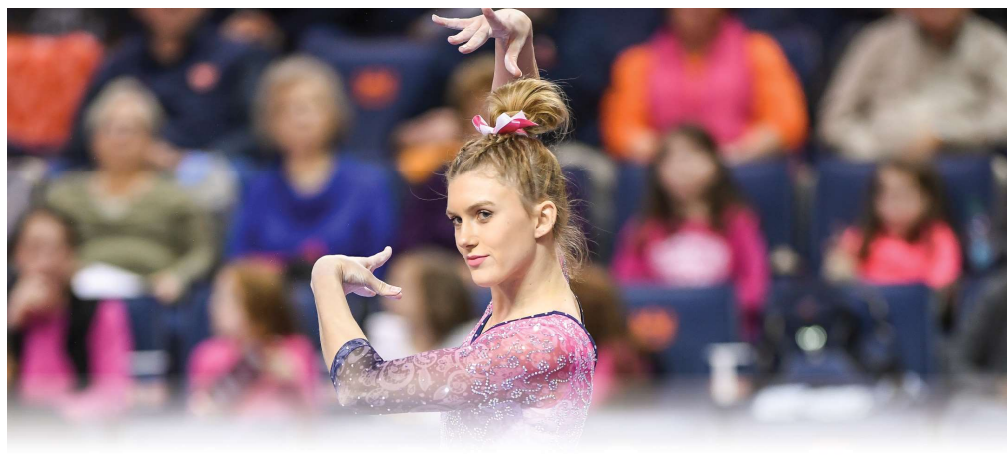

Senior Abby Milliet kept the roll going with another perfect landing and a team-best 9.925 to win the individual title event, and then anchor Gracie Day closed out the routine with a 9.825 — her second 9.800 or higher on bars this season.

When it was all said and done, Auburn posted a 49.500. It's the second-highest score on bars in the country this season, and it's also the second-highest score on the event in program history. The highest, a 49.525, came in 2015 against Arkansas.

The Tigers are currently tied for fourth nationally on bars with an average of 49.325 through the first two meets.

SPECIALIST OF THE WEEK

Derrian Gobourne wasn't the only Auburn gymnast to be recognized by the SEC this week. Senior Abby Milliet was named the SEC Specialist of the Week after she earned a 9.900 or better all three of her events (bars, beam and floor) against LSU.

Milliet won individual event titles on bars (9.925) and beam (9.900) and finished the meet with a 9.900 on floor as the team's anchor. She's currently ranked Top 20 nationally on bars and beam, and her beam average through two meets (9.887) is tied for the first in the region.

Last year, the Texas native qualified for the 2018 NCAA Championship as an individual on beam, and she also played a role in Auburn's run to the Super Six in 2015.

2019 SEASON DEBUT

A week after sophomore Ashley Smith competed for the first time this season on floor, it will be teammate Emma Slappey making her 2019 season debut on the same event.

The junior was a mainstay for Auburn on both beam and floor last season and scored a 9.800 or higher on floor eight times. She tied her career high with a 9.900 against Alabama at the annual Elevate the Stage meet and earned a 9.875 two other times, including the NCAA Salt Lake City Regional.

Slappey will be breaking out a brand new floor routine this year where she plays a character from the movie, "Mean Girls."

BEAM-ING

Through the first two meets, Auburn is No. 1 in its region and ranked eighth nationally with an average score of 49.075.

Sophomore Meredith Sylvia posted the team's high score of the season on beam with a career-best 9.925 against Iowa in the first meet of the year. Sylvia is one of three Tigers ranked in the top 35 on the event through two meets.

UP NEXT

Auburn will return home next week to host rival Georgia on Friday, Jan. 25. The "All Auburn, All Orange" meet is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. CT and will be televised on SEC Network. Fans are encouraged to wear orange.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: SKYLER SHEPPARD

›› Junior Skyler Sheppard transferred to Auburn from Arizona following the 2017 season but missed the majority of last season due to injury. She's worked her way into the lineup on beam and floor this season and is currently tied for 5th in the region on beam through the first two meets.

Utah State Assistant Coach (2004-2005)
• Logan, Utah
Utah Assistant Coach (2006-2010)
• Salt Lake City, Utah
Auburn Head Coach (2010-)
• Auburn, Ala.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his nintth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

In addition, the Tigers earned the program's first No. 1 NCAA regional seed and captured the NCAA Ann Arbor Regional title with a 196.525.

Auburn enjoyed a breakout season in 2015 as Graba led the Tigers to the NCAA Championship Super Six for the first time in 22 years. That season, Auburn broke or tied 52 program records that season.

Auburn's sixth place finish at the Super Six was the Tigers' second best in history and highest since 1993 with a NCAA nationals record score of 197.075. The Tigers also had a program record Super Six score of 195.625.

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
