NO. 14 AUBURN OPENS 2019 AT HOME VS. NO. 29 IOWA

The No. 14 Auburn gymnastics team kicks off the 2019 season at home in Auburn Arena, hosting No. 29 Iowa of the Big Ten Conference. The Tigers and the Hawkeyes will face off Friday, Jan. 4, at 7 p.m. CT and the meet will be streamed on SEC Network+.

"I really like our team and where we are right now," head coach Jeff Graba said. "This is one of the first years that we have enough depth and talent to be competitive with anyone in the country. It's going to come down to team culture and the tangibles the team brings to not just the meets, but practice every single day. The team has done a great job to build up a big trust in each other.

"Iowa is typically a strong team that starts each season off really well," Graba added. "I'm expecting them to be hitting on all cylinders when they get here. Friday night is going to be a good opening test for us."

IN THE RANKINGS

The Auburn gymnastics team will enter the 2019 season at No. 14, the Women's Collegiate Gymnastics Association announced Dec. 10.

"The preseason poll is always fun because they can give a general feeling of the other coaches in the country," Graba said. "Being 14th is basically saying that we are expected to take up right where we left off last year. I always look at this poll as the real kickoff to season so let the games begin!"

Two Southeastern Conference teams rank in the Top 5, while all eight schools rank in the Top 20. Defending national champion UCLA is No. 1 with Oklahoma (No. 2), Florida (No. 3), LSU (No. 4) and Utah (No. 5) rounding out the Top 5. Alabama and Georgia come in at Nos. 6 and 7, while Kentucky is 10th. Arkansas (No. 12) and Missouri (No. 19) are the other SEC schools ranked.

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA

›› The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed six sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING IOWA

The Iowa Hawkeyes come to the Plains as the No. 29 team in the preseason coaches' poll. The squad capped the 2018 season at No. 33.

The Hawkeyes return 12 letterwinners from last year, while adding seven freshmen. The team is under the direction of head coach Larissa Libby in her 15th season at the helm of the program.

Senior Nicole Chow and junior Charlotte Sullivan were recently named to the Big Ten Gymnast to Watch List.

Chow returns after being named second team All-Big Ten in 2018. She competed in the all-around in nine of Iowa's 12 meets, capturing one AA title as well as four beam titles.

Sullivan competed in the all-around in every meet in 2018. She earned a spot on the All-Championship team at the B1G meet after placing third on vault and eighth in the all-around.

AUBURN/IOWA SERIES HISTORY

The Tigers are 9-3 vs. the Hawkeyes in the series history. Eight of Auburn's nine victories over Iowa have all come in a neutral setting.

The team's last met in the season opener in 2018 as both competed in the Arizona State Quad Meet (Jan. 6, 2018). Auburn finished third with a 193.950, while Iowa came in fourth with a 193.000.

AUBURN LINEUP VS. IOWA

Depth and experience is what the Tigers bring to the table in 2019 as the squad didn't lose a single routine from 2018. The tentative lineup for Friday's meet features four seniors, three juniors, four sophomores and one freshman. (Lineups are subject to change prior to the meet).

Picking up where she left off last year in the all-around will be sophomore Drew Watson. The Tyler, Texas, product represented Auburn in the all-around at the 2018 NCAA Championships, finishing 10th with a 39.2875. She advanced to the national meet after setting a career-best 39.425 at the NCAA Salt Lake City Regional.

Auburn will open the evening on vault in rotation one with a lineup that is made up of one freshman, two sophomores, two juniors and one senior. Junior Gracie Day will kick things off in the lead slot, returning as an 2018 All-SEC performer in the event. Senior A'Miracal Phillips follows as one of the top mainstays in the Tiger lineup with junior Katie Becker going third. Sophomore Jada Glenn is slated in the fourth spot, while newcomer Derrian Gobourne follows in fifth. Watson will anchor the talented group and redshirt junior Skyler Sheppard will compete in exhibition.

The second rotation features an experienced group with seniors Taylor Krippner, Samantha Cerio and Abby Milliet leading the way. Cerio is a two-time All-SEC performer in the event as well as a two-time NCAA qualifier.

Watson is set to lead things off on bars with Krippner following. Gobourne and Cerio will go third and fourth with Milliet and Day capping the scoring. Juniors Kendal Moss and Becker are down for exhibition.

The team will move to beam in the third rotation where the squad will feature yet another experienced lineup. Watson will once again lead things off and will be followed by classmate Allie Riddle. The Mobile, Ala., product earned a spot in the line-up in every meet last year as a freshman.

Krippner and Milliet will go in slots three and four, while Skyler Sheppard will make her beam debut as a Tiger in the fifth slot. Milliet returns for her fifth year after securing a spot at the NCAA Championship in the event as an individual. Sophomore Meredith Sylvia will cap the event as anchor after being one of the team's most consistent beam workers last year. Gobourne and sophomore Ashley Smith will compete in exhibition.

The fourth and final rotation will have Auburn go on floor. Sheppard is set to kick things off with Gobourne following. Day, Cerio and Watson are slated next with Milliet anchoring the event. Glenn and Riddle are set to do their routines as exhibition.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: ABBY MILLIET

›› Senior Abby Milliet is back for her fifth year after a solid season in 2018. The Denton, Texas, product reached the NCAA Championship as an individual, finishing in a tie for 15th on beam. She picked up seven beam titles last year and reached a career-best 9.925 on three occasions.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn's 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

All eight Southeastern Conference schools rank in the Top 25 in the preseason poll. Auburn hosts three conference opponents in Auburn Arena - No. 4 LSU (Jan. 11), No. 7 Georgia (Jan. 25) and No. 12 Arkansas (Feb. 15).

HOME SWEET HOME

Home advantage has been and will continue to be a big factor for the Tigers this season as the squad hopes to add more sellouts (7,424) to its growing list. The program once again reached new heights in season ticket sales, eclipsing 1,750 so far. That totaled bested the 2018 record of 1,625.

The Tigers host three of its seven SEC meets at home in Auburn Arena as well as non-conference match ups with Iowa and Air Force.

EXPERIENCED SENIORS

The Auburn roster boasts a wealth of experience in 2018, returning all routines from last season. Leading the charge is a group of four seniors who have been major contributors their entire time on the Plains.

Leading the way is Abby Milliet in her fifth year. The Denton, Texas, product comes back to the program after qualifying for the 2018 NCAA Championship as an individual on beam. In addition, she played a role in Auburn's run to the Super Six in 2015.

Joining her is Samantha Cerio, Taylor Krippner and A'Miracal Phillips. Cerio is a two-time All-SEC performer on bars, qualifying as an individual to national two years in a row. Krippner has been a mainstay on beam, bars and vault over the last three seasons, bringing big numbers particularly on beam. Phillips has brought solid socres on vault throughout her career, making 27 starts in the event.

BIG TIME JUNIORS

The 2019 junior class also brings experience to the lineup this year. Leading the way is Gracie Day and Emma Slappey as the pair have played major roles in their respective events.

Day has earned All-SEC honors in each of her first two seasons.

In 2018, she picked up All-SEC recognition after finishing in a tie for second on vault at the conference meet with a career-best 9.925. She also put up big numbers on bars (9.95) and floor (9.925) last year.

Slappey has been a solid contributor on beam and floor for the Tigers over the last two seasons. She scored a 9.825 or higher seven time on beam in 2018 for the squad.

Joining the pair are North Carolina natives Katie Becker and Kendal Moss. Becker, a 2017 NCAA Championship competitor in the all-around, and Moss both have given the Tigers scoring opportunities on bars, while Becker is capable of earning a spot in both the vault and beam lineup this season.

Skyler Sheppard, who transferred to Auburn last season from Arizona, secured a redshirt last year and will be expected to be a big scorer on both beam and floor this season.

SUPER SOPHOMORES

The 2019 sophomore class had a special season in 2018 as all five got valuable experience in their first year.

Drew Watson was an All-SEC performer on vault and reached the NCAA Championship as an individual in the all-around where she finished 10th overall.

Allie Riddle and Meredith Sylvia were Auburn's most consistent performers on beam in 2018 with Riddle holding down the lead off in all meets.

Jada Glenn was a mainstay in the vault lineup, while Ashley Smith led off on floor in every meet.

NEWBIES

The Auburn freshmen class is composed of six solid newcomers. Highlighting the crew is Sarasota, Fla., product Derrian Gobourne. The 2018 Nastia Liukin Cup participant is slated to compete for score in three events Friday - vault, bars, floor.

UP NEXT

Auburn continues its home swing, hosting two-time defending champion LSU, Jan. 11. The two Tiger teams will face off at 7:30 p.m. CT in Auburn Arena and the meet will be televised live on SEC Network.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: SAMANTHA CERIO

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his nintth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
