NO. 13 AUBURN RETURNS HOME TO TAKE ON NO. 6 GEORGIA

There's nothing better than being at home. The Auburn women's gymnastics team, ranked No. 13 this week, proved that two weeks ago when they posted a 196.700 to beat LSU in front of a sellout crowd in Auburn Arena.

And though the Tigers picked up another win on the road at Missouri last weekend, they're excited to be back home this Friday where they will welcome No. 6 Georgia to town.

"I think our girls feed off (the crowd)," Auburn head coach Jeff Graba said. "To me, it's the most important thing we can have here. A sellout arena, that loud environment, that awesome environment that our fans bring — that's what brought the girls here in the first place. That's why they committed to a place like Auburn. They want to be in front of people. They want to be on TV. They want all of this pressure on them.

"And I think this is a great opportunity for our girls to go out there and compete against somebody like a Georgia who's won 10 national championships, and we've got our fans on our side."

IN THE RANKINGS

With a win at No. 10 Missouri on Saturday, Auburn secured top 10 victories in back-to-back weeks for the first time in program history. It's also the program's first 3-0 start since 2002. However, the Tigers (3-0) stayed put at No. 13 in this week's ranking after earning a 195.825 in Saturday's meet.

The top five this week remained unchanged with Oklahoma still at the top, followed by UCLA (No. 2), Florida (No. 3), Utah (No. 4) and LSU (No. 5). In the SEC, Georgia climbed to No. 6, and Alabama moved all the way up to No. 9 — giving the conference four teams ranked in the top 10. Next up is Auburn at No. 13, followed by Missouri (15), Kentucky (17) and Arkansas (21).

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA

» The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed seven sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING GEORGIA

Following a 196.875 against Alabama last Friday, the Georgia gymnastics team posted a 197.000 to beat Iowa State on Monday. They are only the fifth school in the country to record a 197.000 or higher this season.

Coming into the season, the GymDogs returned five gymnasts from the year before, including four All-Americans – Rachel Dickson, Marissa Oakley, Sydney Snead and Sabrina Vega.

Snead, now a senior, earned first-team All-American honors on vault and second-team honors on beam and in the all-around at the NCAA Semifinals last year. This season, she leads the SEC on vault with an average score of 9.925, and her 39.225 in all-around puts her at eighth in the conference.

Dickson, a junior, recorded season-highs on bars (9.900) and beam (9.875) in Monday’s meet, and she also set a season-best score of 39.475 in the all-around.

Vega also earned season-best scores Monday with a 9.925 on floor and a 9.850 on vault. The junior is currently ranked in the top 10 in the SEC on floor (9.875).

AUBURN/GEORGIA SERIES HISTORY

Auburn is 7-81 all-time against Georgia and lost both meetings last year, including a narrow defeat (196.375 – 196.725) on the road in the only head-to-head matchup.

From 2015 to 2016, Auburn won four straight in the series and posted the top two scores in program history during that span. In 2015, the Tigers hosted Georgia in Auburn Arena and earned a 197.750, the highest score in program history. Then, in 2016 at Georgia, Auburn followed with a 197.325 – the second-highest team score and highest ever on the road.

The Tigers are 2-19 all-time at home against Georgia.

AUBURN LINEUP VS. GEORGIA

Last week at Missouri, the Auburn coaching staff experimented with some new routines and some changes to the lineup. That could happen again this week against Georgia as they look to find that perfect lineup by the time postseason rolls around.

The Tigers will begin the meet on vault and leading off will be senior Taylor Krippner, who will be making her season debut on the event. Krippner, who has been a mainstay on bars and beam this season, has plenty of experience on vault with 41 career starts coming in. She earned a career-best 9.9 on vault at home against Alabama last season.

After Krippner, it will be Gracie Day who shared the individual title last week with a 9.875, followed by senior A’Miracal Phillips. Next up is freshman Derrian Gobourne and sophomore Drew Watson, the two all-arounders who are both ranked top five in the region on vault. Sophomore Jada Glenn will once again serve as the anchor.

Then it’s on to bars where Auburn ranks second in the region and No. 6 nationally. The Tigers earned the second-highest bars score in program history (49.500) two weeks ago against LSU, and the lineup will be the same as it’s been all season.

Sophomore Drew Watson will once again go first and then it will be Krippner, Gobourne and senior Samantha Cerio. Cerio won the individual title on bars last week against Missouri and has scored a 9.900 in back-to-back meets. Next up is fellow senior Abby Milliet, who leads the team with a 9.875 average, and finally it will be Day to close out the event.

The third rotation for Auburn will be beam, and though it’s the same six gymnasts as the week before, the coaches plan to shuffle up the order some.

Watson and Gobourne are once expected to lead things off for the Tigers, but then Krippner will move back into the third spot and be followed by Skyler Sheppard, who served as the anchor last week. Next will be Milliet, and then back in the anchor spot is sophomore Meredith Sylvia.

Auburn will finish the meet on floor with junior Emma Slappey in the top spot for the second straight week. Slappey posted a 9.775 against Missouri in her season debut on floor.

The other five on floor are also expected to stay the same with Sheppard, Watson, Gobourne, Milliet and Cerio in that order. Gobourne has won the individual title on floor the last two weeks, and the freshman’s average (9.867) currently ranks fifth in the region and 36th nationally.

As a team, the Tigers have jumped up an entire point (48.583) on floor since the first meet of the season.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn's 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

All eight Southeastern Conference schools rank in the Top 25 in this week's rankings. Auburn still has two conference opponents scheduled to come to Auburn Arena with No. 6 Georgia (Friday) and No. 21 Arkansas (Feb. 15).

QUEEN DERRIAN

Last Saturday, freshman Derrian Gobourne posted a 9.875 on vault and floor to win the individual title on both events and help Auburn knock off No. 10 Missouri on the road.

The performance came on the heels of Gobourne's career night against LSU the week before when she won individual titles on the same two events with a 9.900 on vault and a 9.950 on floor. She also shared the all-around crown with the reigning SEC Gymnast of the Year, Sarah Finnegan of LSU.

Gobourne is currently ranked in the top 50 nationally on vault, bars and floor, and she's No. 15 in the country on all-around (39.287) after the last two meets.

BAR SQUAD

After another strong performance against Missouri, Auburn is ranked No. 6 nationally and No. 3 in the SEC on bars with an average of 49.308 through three meets.

The meet before, at home against LSU, the Tigers got on a roll on bars and posted a 49.500 – the second-highest score on the event in program history.

The rotation started with sophomore Drew Watson, who stuck the landing and scored a 9.900. Then it was senior Samantha Cerio who earned a 9.900. Freshman Derrian Gobourne went next with a 9.875 before senior Taylor Krippner added a third 9.900.

Senior Abby Milliet kept the roll going with another perfect landing and a team-best 9.925 to win the individual title event, and then anchor Gracie Day closed out the routine with a 9.825 – her second 9.800 or higher on bars this season.

Led by Milliet (No. 21), all six gymnasts are currently ranked in the top 50 nationally on the event.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: TAYLOR KRIPPNER

» Senior Taylor Krippner has been a mainstay on bars and beam this season, and her bars average (9.842) is ranked top 50 in the country. But she will make her season debut on floor Friday as she's set to lead off the event for Auburn against No. 6 Georgia.

SEC HARDWARE

Following Auburn's win over LSU on Jan. 11, freshman Derrian Gobourne and senior Abby Milliet both earned SEC honors the following week.

Gobourne was named the SEC Freshman of the Week after sharing the all-around title with a 39.475. The Florida native posted one of the league's top scores on floor this season with a 9.950, and she also won the individual event title on vault with a 9.000.

Milliet took home SEC Specialist of the Week after she scored a 9.900 or better on all three of her events (bars, beam and floor). The senior currently leads the team and is ranked top 50 nationally on bars (9.875) and beam (9.833) this season.

ALL-AROUND DUO

There have only been a handful of times in the past two decades that Auburn has had two gymnasts competing in the all-around at the same time.

However, this season the Tigers have both Drew Watson and Derrian Gobourne competing all-around, and one of the two has claimed the AA title in all three meets this season.

Gobourne earned a season-best 39.475 against LSU and is ranked No. 15 nationally with an average of 39.287 in two meets. And Watson, who won the AA title against Iowa and Missouri, is No. 36 in the country with an AA average of 39.100 through the first three meets.

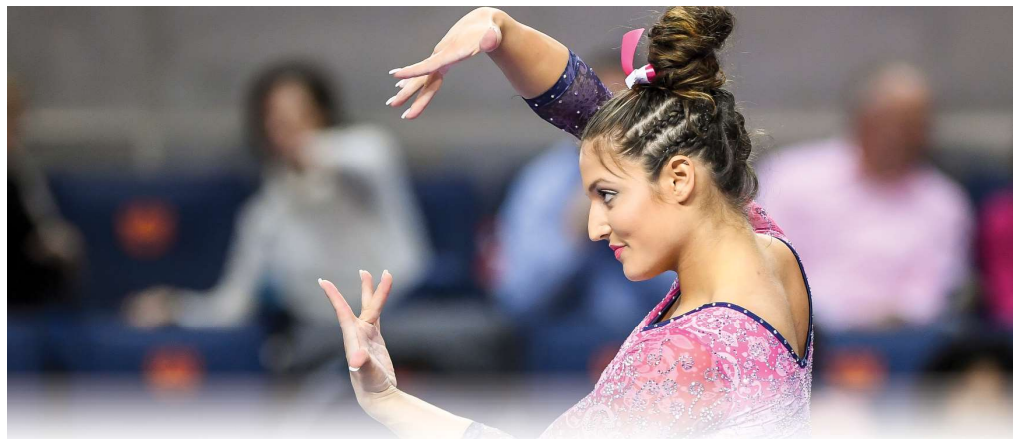

VAULT-STARS

Auburn continues to climb on vault where it's third in the region and No. 10 nationally with an average score of 49.017.

The Tigers posted a 49.025 against Missouri on Saturday thanks to Gracie Day and Derrian Gobourne, who shared the individual title with a 9.875. Day, Gobourne and Watson are all ranked in the top 30 on the event through three meets.

UP NEXT

Auburn (3-0, 2-0) will hit the road again next week when the Tigers travel to Lexington to face No. 17 Kentucky on Friday, Feb. 1. The meet is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. CT and will be televised on ESPNU.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

Flips Gym Head Coach (1988-1995)
 • White Bear Lake, Minn.
 Hamline University Assistant Coach (1992-1998)
 • St. Paul, Minn.
 Midwest Gym Head Coach (1995-2003)

 Utah State Assistant Coach (2004-2005)
 • Logan, Utah
 Utah Assistant Coach (2006-2010)
 • Salt Lake City, Utah
 Auburn Head Coach (2010-)
 • Auburn, Ala.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his ninth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

In addition, the Tigers earned the program's first No. 1 NCAA regional seed and captured the NCAA Ann Arbor Regional title with a 196.525.

Auburn enjoyed a breakout season in 2015 as Graba led the Tigers to the NCAA Championship Super Six for the first time in 22 years. That season, Auburn broke or tied 52 program records that season.

Auburn's sixth place finish at the Super Six was the Tigers' second best in history and highest since 1993 with a NCAA nationals record score of 197.075. The Tigers also had a program record Super Six score of 195.625.

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
