NO. 11 AUBURN GEARS UP FOR ROAD TEST AT NO. 17 KENTUCKY

There's something different about this year's Auburn gymnastics team. The Tigers are 4-0 for the first time in program history. Three of the wins came against top-10 teams. They're ranked No. 11 nationally. And most importantly, they're having fun.

"It's incredible," senior Taylor Krippner said. "This is the season that I've been waiting for. This is my fourth year, and I've never experienced something so fun and enjoyable team as far as gymnastics goes.

"The talent has always been there. Granted, we're still very talented and that definitely plays a part. But as far as having fun and everything, I think that's all about the team dynamic. Everyone just loves each other, everyone is committed, and no one really fears the challenge anymore. We're just excited to conquer it."

The next challenge facing Auburn is a trip to No. 17 Kentucky on Friday. It's been almost 10 years since the Tigers last won in Lexington, and like Auburn, the Wildcats are coming off their season-high score (196.650) at Florida last weekend.

IN THE RANKINGS

After posting a season-high score (196.775) in Friday night's win over Georgia, Auburn moved up two spots to No. 11 in this week's rankings. The Tigers are now in the top 10 nationally on vault, bars and beam.

The only movement in the top five this week was Florida jumping UCLA at No. 2. Oklahoma remained in the top spot for the fourth straight week followed by Florida, UCLA, Utah and LSU.

The SEC once again had seven teams in the top 20 with Florida and LSU in the top five followed by Georgia (No. 6), Alabama (No. 8), Auburn (No. 11), Missouri (No. 16) and Kentucky (No. 17). Rounding out the conference is Arkansas at No. 24.

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA
›› The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed eight sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING KENTUCKY

The Kentucky gymnastics team is coming off its highest score of the season, a 196.650, at Florida last weekend. Though the Wildcats lost the meet, Katie Stuart (bars) and Mollie Korth (floor) both won individual event titles.

The week before Kentucky knocked off Arkansas in its first and only home meet of the season to this point. The Wildcats posted a 195.275, and Korth — a regular-season All-American a year ago — took the home the all-around title with a 39.200.

Korth, now a junior, joins an experienced Kentucky squad that has every routine back but three from a 2018 team that advanced to the NCAA Championships for the first time in program history. That groups includes a trio of seniors — Stuart, Alex Hyland and Sidney Dukes — who all competed on all-around in the last meet along with Korth.

Fellow senior Aubree Rosa, a mainstay on vault and floor, earned a career-high 9.875 on floor last week at Florida.

The Wildcats also added four freshmen this season, including Cally Nixon whose 9.900 on bars in the last meet led the way in what was a season-high score (49.225) on the event.

AUBURN/KENTUCKY SERIES HISTORY

Auburn is 42-45 all-time against Kentucky and has not won in the series since 2016 when the Tigers won the head-to-head meeting at home and also finished with a higher score at the SEC Championship.

Auburn has the advantage at home (14-7) and at neutral sites (24-21), but the Tigers have struggled on the road in the series with a 4-17 mark all-time in Lexington. The last road win came in 2010, the year before head coach Jeff Graba arrived, when the team posted a 196.420.

AUBURN LINEUP VS. KENTUCKY

Despite a 4-0 start to the season, Auburn is still trying to find the optimal lineup before the beginning of postseason play in March. That means lineup changes to different events and changes to certain routines as some of the gymnasts look to increase the difficulty level.

The coaches also want to be sure the team is fresh for postseason, which means they will give certain gymnasts a rest at certain meets. This week, that group includes Abby Milliet. The fifth-year senior is a mainstay on bars, beam and floor, but she will only compete on beam against Kentucky.

The Tigers will begin the meet on bars, and taking the place of Milliet in the lineup is Katie Becker. The junior will be making her season debut on the event.

Sophomore Drew Watson will once again lead off for Auburn on bars and is followed by Becker, Taylor Krippner, Samantha Cerio, Derrian Gobourne and Gracie Day. Day, who has been the anchor on the event in every meet this season, is tied for fourth in the region and 35th nationally with a 9.856 average. She earned a team-high 9.875 against Georgia.

The second rotation for the Tigers will be on vault where they posted a season-high 49.250 in their last meet and moved up to No. 9 nationally.

For the first time all season, senior A'Miracal Phillips will move up and serve as the lead after scoring a season-high 9.825 last week. Then it will be Krippner, Day, Gobourne, Watson and sophomore Jada Glenn. Krippner made her debut on vault last week with a 9.875.

Auburn will move to floor next, and sophomore Ashley Smith is back in the lineup and set to go first. She'll be followed by juniors Emma Slappey and Skyler Sheppard, who will each move back one spot. Then it will be Watson, Cerio and Gobourne, who will be the anchor on floor for the first time this season.

Last week Gobourne, the SEC Freshman of the Week, posted her second 9.950 on floor this season.

The Tigers will close on beam where Slappey will make her season debut on the event and slide in behind Watson at the No. 2 spot. The rest of the lineup is the same as the week before with Gobourne, Sheppard, Milliet and Meredith Sylvia in that order.

Sylvia, who is tied for 50th nationally on beam, finished with a team-high 9.875 last week to help Auburn score a 49.175 against Georgia. Sylvia earned a 9.925 on the event to open the season against Iowa.

Auburn will have two all-arounders compete for the fourth meet in a row with Gobourne and Watson.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: SAMANTHA CERIO

›› Senior Samantha Cerio scored a 9.800 or higher in three different events in last year's head-to-head meet against Kentucky. Cerio, who is currently tied for 38th nationally on bars, won the individual title on bars against the Wildcats last year with a 9.900.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn's 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

The Tigers have already knocked off three Top 10 teams, including two in the top six, and they still have road meets at No. 17 Kentucky, No. 2 Florida and No. 6 Alabama remaining along with a home meet against No. 21 Arkansas (Feb. 15).

KEEP CALM AND DERRIAN

Freshman Derrian Gobourne has been a quick study for Auburn gymnastics. Through the first month of the season, she's already won the all-around title twice (LSU and Georgia) and earned SEC Freshman of the Week after both of those meets.

In the last meet, Gobourne scored a 9.800 or higher on all four events, and her floor routine, a 9.950, earned a perfect 10 from one of the two judges. She also added a 9.800 on beam, which was a new career high, and finished with a 39.375 to edge out Georgia's Sidney Stead for the all-around crown.

Gobourne is currently ranked seventh in the SEC and tied for 16th nationally in the all-around with an average of 39.317 through three meets. She's ranked among the top 30 in the country on both vault (t-28th) and floor (t-21st).

BAR SQUAD

Despite a season-low 49.050 on bars against Georgia, the event remains Auburn's strongest through the first month. The Tigers are ranked seventh nationally and third in the SEC with an average of 49.244 through three meets.

Earlier in the season against LSU, Auburn posted a 49.500 — the second-highest score on the event in program history.
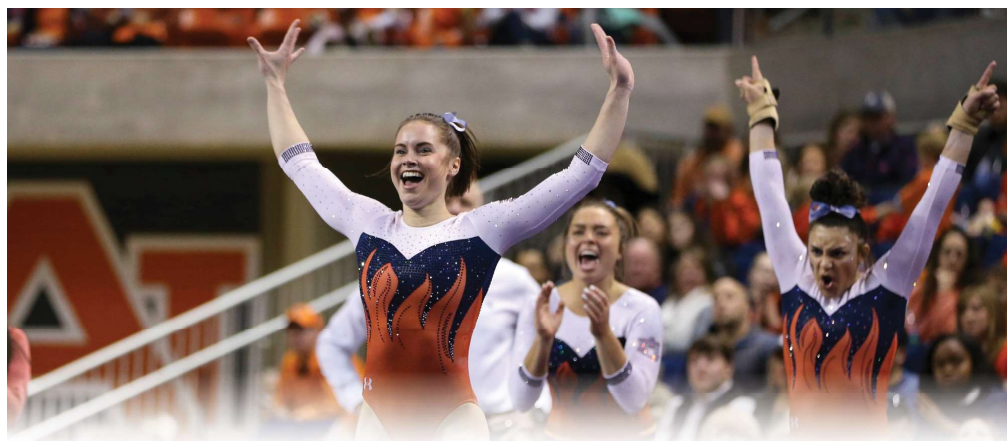

The rotation started with sophomore Drew Watson, who stuck the landing and scored a 9.900. Then it was senior Samantha Cerio who earned a 9.900. Freshman Derrian Gobourne went next with a 9.875 before senior Taylor Krippner added a third 9.900.

Senior Abby Milliet kept the roll going with another perfect landing and a team-best 9.925 to win the individual title event, and then anchor Gracie Day closed out the routine with a 9.825.

Day has scored a 9.800 or higher in all four meets this season.

SEC HARDWARE

Following Auburn's win over No. 6 Georgia last weekend, Derrian Gobourne was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the second time this season.

Gobourne, who received the same honor two weeks prior after sharing the all-around title against LSU, once again won the all-around crown with a 39.375. The Florida native also claimed the individual title on floor with a 9.950 and scored a season-high 9.800 on beam.

After the LSU meet, senior Abby Milliet was named SEC Specialist of the Week. She scored a 9.900 or better on all three of her events (bars, beam and floor).

ALL-AROUND DUO

There have only been a handful of times in the past two decades that Auburn has had two gymnasts competing in the all-around at the same time.

However, this season the Tigers have both Drew Watson and Derrian Gobourne competing all-around, and one of the two has claimed the AA title in all four meets this season.

Gobourne earned a season-best 39.475 against LSU and is tied for 16th nationally with an average of 39.317 in three meets. And Watson, who won the AA title against Iowa and Missouri, is No. 36 in the country with an AA average of 39.100 through the first four meets.

VAULT-STARS

Auburn continues to climb on vault where it's third in the region and No. 9 nationally with an average score of 49.075.

The Tigers posted a season-high 49.250 against Georgia last weekend thanks to Gracie Day, who won the event title with a 9.900, along with senior Taylor Krippner, who made her season debut on vault with a 9.875.

UP NEXT

Fresh off one road trip, Auburn (4-0, 3-0) will make another one next week to Gainesville where the Tigers will match up against No. 2 Florida on Friday, Feb. 8. The meet is scheduled for 6 p.m. CT and will be televised on SEC Network.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: EMMA SLAPPEY

›› Junior Emma Slappey has competed on floor the last two meets and posted a season-high 9.825 on the event against Georgia the last time out. She is once again in the floor lineup against Kentucky, but she will also make her season debut on beam in Friday's meet.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his ninth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

In addition, the Tigers earned the program's first No. 1 NCAA regional seed and captured the NCAA Ann Arbor Regional title with a 196.525.

Auburn enjoyed a breakout season in 2015 as Graba led the Tigers to the NCAA Championship Super Six for the first time in 22 years. That season, Auburn broke or tied 52 program records that season.

Auburn's sixth place finish at the Super Six was the Tigers' second best in history and highest since 1993 with a NCAA nationals record score of 197.075. The Tigers also had a program record Super Six score of 195.625.

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
