NO. 11 AUBURN HOSTS NO. 21 ARKANSAS IN FINAL SEC HOME MEET

After back-to-back meets on the road, the No. 11 Auburn gymnastics team will return home Friday night for what will be the last SEC home meet of the 2019 season.

Auburn Arena has been good to the Tigers this season. They are 3-0 at home, and the past two meets – both sellouts – they knocked off No. 4 LSU and No. 6 Georgia. This Friday, it will be an Arkansas squad that is ranked No. 21 nationally and that has beaten the Tigers in each of the past three regular-season meetings.

"A home-field advantage is big for everybody in the SEC," Auburn head coach Jeff Graba said. "You want to make it nearly impossible for the opposing team to have any advantage at all. I think that was true to course when LSU and Georgia came here. They were ranked ahead of us, they were hitting on all cylinders, and they came in and had some struggles. And we actually rose above our expectations and got better.

"We need it this Friday, obviously. Arkansas is a thorn in Auburn's side for the last five or six years, and they're definitely coming in to get their act together. I think they're a little under ranked right now. I think we are as well. But we need everybody."

IN THE RANKINGS

Despite suffering its first loss of the season last Friday night, Auburn still moved up one spot to No. 11 in this week's rankings after the Tigers posted their highest road score of the season (196.700) at No. 2 Florida.

The top five remained the same again this week with Oklahoma in the top spot followed by Florida, UCLA, Utah and LSU. Seven of the eight SEC teams are ranked in the top 20 with Florida and LSU in the top five, followed by Georgia (No. 7), Alabama (No. 9), Auburn (No. 11), Kentucky (No. 13) and Missouri (No. 15). Arkansas, Auburn's opponent this week, checked in at No. 21.

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA
›› The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed eight sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING ARKANSAS

It's been a down year for Arkansas to this point, but the Razorbacks have posted their three highest scores of the season in the last three meets. Two weeks ago, they earned a season-high 196.125 on the road at Georgia.

Coming into the season, Arkansas returned 17 of 24 routines from the year before. It's a group that includes All-American Hailey Garner, the reigning SEC Freshman of the Year Sarah Shaffer and a pair of All-SEC performers, in Sophia Carter and Sydney Laird. The Razorbacks have also welcomed senior Sydney McGlone back into the lineup after she missed most of last season with an elbow injury.

Junior Jessica Yamzon is also back this season after competing in the all-around in every meet during her freshman and sophomore seasons. This season, she's earned a 39.150 or higher in the AA in four of the six meets, including a season-high 39.250 against Georgia two weeks ago.

Last week, freshmen Kennedy Hambrick and Michaela Burton joined Yamzon in the all-around compeotition against Alabama. Hambrick posted a career-high 39.375.

AUBURN/ARKANSAS SERIES HISTORY

Arkansas took the series lead (17-16-1) last year after finishing higher in the SEC championship. Though the Razorbacks have back-to-back wins, Auburn has a 5-4-1 edge in the last 10 meetings dating back to 2014.

In 2015, the last time Auburn beat Arkansas at home, the Tigers posted the highest bars score (49.525) in program history. They also posted one of their top five beam scores (49.400) the following year in Fayetteville.

AUBURN LINEUP VS. ARKANSAS

We're past the midway point of the regular season, and through the first six meets, Auburn has shown the ability to hit on all four events. Now the challenge becomes trying to hit on all four events in the same meet.

First up will be vault, and the Tigers are looking to rebound after failing to post a 49.000 or higher for only the second time all season last week at Florida. They're currently ranked No. 10 nationally on the event with an average of 49.075.

The coaches still plan to roll out a very similar lineup to Florida, though, with seniors A'Miracal Phillips and Taylor Krippner leading off followed by junior Gracie Day. The only change will be sophomore Jada Glenn moving from anchor to the four spot, which means freshman Derrian Gobourne and sophomore Drew Watson will each move back a spot in the lineup. Watson, the new anchor, is first on the team and tied for 15th nationally with an average of 9.867 this season.

Auburn will move to bars next where the team is currently ranked No. 1 in the SEC. The Tigers earned a 49.375 last week after all six gymnasts scored a 9.850 or higher on the event.

The only change to this week's bars lineup will be the season debut of junior Kendal Moss, who will take the place of Krippner in the second slot. Watson will once again lead off, and then after Moss, it will be Gobourne, seniors Samantha Cerio and Abby Milliet, and then Day as the anchor. Milliet finished with a team-high 9.00 against Florida.

The final two events of the night, beam and floor, the lineups will be identical to what Auburn used a week ago.

Watson will serve as the lead on beam followed by Gobourne and junior Skyler Sheppard. Then it will be Krippner, Milliet and sophomore Meredith Sylvia, who has earned the team-high score in each of the last two meets. Sylvia is currently ranked top 50 nationally on the event.

On floor, the Tigers earned their highest score of the season last week with a 49.450. One of the main reasons for the big score was the return of Day in the anchor spot. The junior matched her career high with a 9.925, and she will once again close out the event. In front of her will be junior Emma Slappey followed by Sheppard, Watson, Gobourne and then it's Milliet, who also posted a 9.925 in last week's meet.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn's 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

Five of the team's first six opponents are currently ranked in the Top 15, and the Tigers won four of those meets, including wins over No. 5 LSU and No. 7 Georgia. They still have a road meet at No. 9 Alabama on March 1.

KEEP CALM AND DERRIAN

Freshman Derrian Gobourne has been a quick study for Auburn gymnastics. Through the first month of the season, she's already won the all-around title three different times and earned SEC Freshman of the Week after two of those meets.

Against Georgia, Gobourne scored a 9.800 or higher on all four events, and her floor routine, a 9.950, earned a perfect 10 from one of the two judges. She also added a 9.800 on beam, which was a new career high, and finished with a 39.375 to edge out Georgia's Sydney Snead for the all-around crown.

Gobourne is currently tied for 6th in the SEC and tied for 18th nationally in the all-around with an average of 39.350 through five meets. She's also among the top 30 in the country on both vault (t-22nd) and floor (28th).

BAR SQUAD

Bars has been Auburn's strongest routine this season, and it was no different in its last meet at Florida as the Tigers posted a 49.375 — their second-highest score of the year. Senior Abby Milliet led the way with a team-high 9.900, but all six gymnasts who competed scored a 9.850 or higher on the event.

Auburn is currently ranked sixth nationally and moved to No. 1 in the SEC after the last meet. Led by Samantha Cerio, who is tied for 29th nationally (9.867), the Tigers have seven gymnasts ranked in the top 20 in the region on bars.

Earlier in the season against LSU, Auburn posted a 49.500 — the second-highest score on the event in program history. The team has eclipsed 49.000 in all six meets this season and they've been at or above 49.275 in four of the six meets.

VAULT-STARS

Auburn is currently third in the region and 10th nationally on vault with an average score of 49.075.

Prior to the Florida meet, the Tigers had scored a 49.000 or higher on vault in four straight meets. Sophomore Drew Watson, who matched her career high with a 9.925 against Kentucky, is tied for 15th nationally (9.867), and freshman Derrian Gobourne jumped into a tie for 22nd after earning a 9.900 at Florida. Both are ranked Top 10 in the SEC.

SEC HARDWARE

Following Auburn's win over No. 6 Georgia two weeks ago, Derrian Gobourne was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the second time this season.

Gobourne, who received the same honor two weeks prior after sharing the all-around title against LSU, once again won the all-around crown with a 39.375. The Florida native also claimed the individual title on floor with a 9.950 and scored a season-high 9.800 on beam.

After the LSU meet, senior Abby Milliet was named SEC Specialist of the Week. She scored a 9.900 or better on all three of her events (bars, beam and floor).

ALL-AROUND DUO

There have only been a handful of times in the past two decades that Auburn has had two gymnasts competing in the all-around at the same time.

However, this season the Tigers have both Drew Watson and Derrian Gobourne competing all-around, and one of the two has claimed the AA title in five of the six meets this season.

The duo shared the title two weeks ago against Kentucky as both finished with a 39.350. Gobourne is currently tied for 18th nationally with an average of 39.350 in the last five meets, and Watson is No. 37 in the country with an AA average of 39.188 through the six meets this season.

SEIZE THE DAY

Gracie Day made her return to floor last week and did not disappoint. The junior matched her career high with a 9.925 in her first appearance on the event since Jan. 4.

Day, who earned All-SEC honors the past two seasons, has been a fixture in the lineup on both vault and bars where she's been a model of consistency. Up until last week, she had earned a 9.800 or higher on both events in every meet this season.

UP NEXT

Auburn will travel to Denton, Texas next week where it will face Texas Woman's University for a rare Sunday meet on Feb. 24. The meet is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. CT.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: KENDAL MOSS

›› Junior Kendal Moss will make her 2019 season debut on bars Friday against Arkansas. Moss competed on bars for Auburn in all 13 team meets last season and earned a career-high 9.900 against Missouri. She scored a 9.800 or higher on the event six different times.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his ninth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

In addition, the Tigers earned the program's first No. 1 NCAA regional seed and captured the NCAA Ann Arbor Regional title with a 196.525.

Auburn enjoyed a breakout season in 2015 as Graba led the Tigers to the NCAA Championship Super Six for the first time in 22 years. That season, Auburn broke or tied 52 program records that season.

Auburn's sixth place finish at the Super Six was the Tigers' second best in history and highest since 1993 with a NCAA nationals record score of 197.075. The Tigers also had a program record Super Six score of 195.625.

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
