AUBURN'S TRIP TO TWU A HOMECOMING FOR TEXAS GROUP

When No. 11 Auburn travels to Texas Woman's University this weekend, expect a lot of orange and blue in Kitty Magee Arena on Sunday. That's because the Lone Star State is well-represented on this year's Auburn roster with Abby Milliet, Drew Watson, Gracie Day, Taylor Krippner and Skyler Sheppard. All five gymnasts call Texas home.

"I think it's going to be fun for me," Watson said. "My dad was talking this week about how many people are coming to support me. They've really kind of honed into Auburn gymnastics this year. They're really excited for our season and our team. I think they see what we have, and they all want to come watch us. I think it's going to be a pretty good crowd."

The meet itself is important as the Tigers look to earn another win and add another high road score to help their rank in the post-season. But it's also an opportunity to showcase the team and the program to perspective gymnasts in the area.

"It's extremely important," Auburn head coach Jeff Graba said. "Texas is a hotbed for gymnastics. Outside of the NCAA, everybody is there. That's where the major clubs are. We have to put on a good show. We have to show them that if you want to come to the SEC, the top conference in the country, that Auburn is the school to go to."

IN THE RANKINGS

Coming off a season-high 197.100 in Friday's win over Arkansas, the Auburn gymnastics team is holding steady at No. 11 in this week's national rankings. The Tigers have now earned a 196.700 or higher in three of their last four meets.

The only movement in the top five came from UCLA, who jumped Florida for the No. 2 spot. Oklahoma is still No. 1 followed by UCLA, Florida, Utah and LSU. Including Florida and LSU, the SEC has four teams ranked in the top 10 with Georgia (No. 7) and Alabama (No. 9). The Tigers are next at No. 11 followed by Kentucky (No. 13), Missouri (No. 19) and Arkansas (No. 21).

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA

» The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed nine sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING TWU

Though Texas Woman’s University is a Division II school, the Pioneers have won back-to-back USA Gymnastics Collegiate National Championships at that level. They scored a 196.525 to take home the crown in last year’s final.

This season, TWU is 5-6 with a schedule that has included the likes of No. 6 Denver, No. 13 Kentucky and No. 20 Arizona State. The Pioneers are coming off a weekend in Missouri where they finished third of four teams in the GymQuarters Invitational and then dropped a head-to-head matchup against Lindenwood.

Senior Erin Alderman earned Performance of the Week honors in the Midwest Independent Conference this week for her floor routine at the GymQuarters event. Alderman matched her season high with a 9.850, and then two days later, she followed that up with a 9.825 on floor.

Alderman is one of a seven seniors on this year’s squad. Fellow senior Jenna Cashmore posted one of the team’s high scores last Sunday with a 9.825 on bars. The Pioneers also have plenty of youth with six freshman on the roster.

AUBURN/TWU SERIES HISTORY

Auburn has never lost to TWU, winning all seven previous meetings. The series dates all the way back to 1988 when the Tigers finished ahead of TWU in a tri-meet.

Last year, Auburn won a quad meet at TWU with a score of 196.500 to beat Pittsburgh, North Carolina State and the host school. Abby Milliet, a native of Denton, Texas, shared the individual titles on both beam (9.925) and floor (9.900).

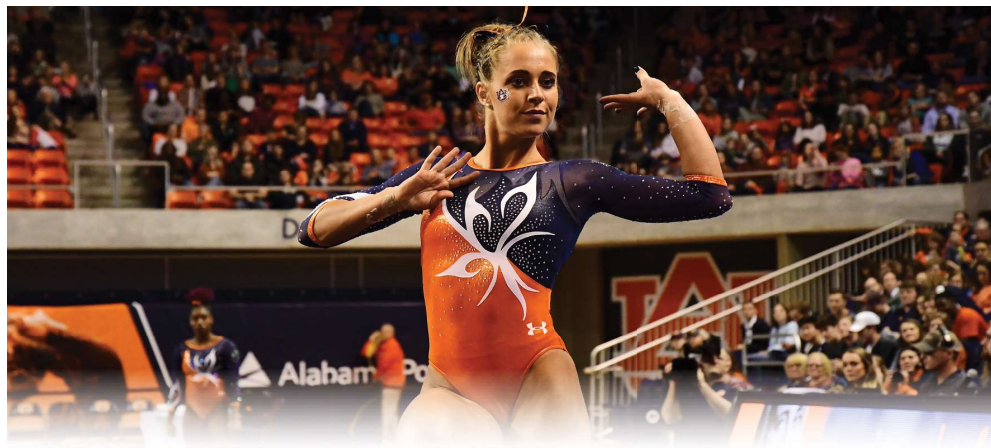

AUBURN LINEUP VS. TWU

It’s always important to start strong, and Auburn has a great opportunity to do just that with bars up first in Sunday’s meet. The Tigers set a new program record on bars the last time out with a 49.600 against Arkansas, and they are currently ranked fifth in the nation on the event.

The only change to the bars lineup this week will be the return of senior Taylor Krippner, who was replaced by Kendal Moss in the second spot for the last meet. Sophomore Drew Watson will once again lead off, and then after Krippner will be Samantha Cerio, Derrian Gobourne and Abby Milliet. Last but not least is anchor Gracie Day, who is coming off a career-high 9.975.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: DREW WATSON

» Sophomore Drew Watson set or matched her career high in all four events in the last meet and finished with a career-high 39.625 in the all-around. The Texas native scored the best on vault where she earned a 9.950 and is currently tied for 10th in the nation (9.879).

Auburn will move to vault next where the Tigers posted a season-high 49.325 against Arkansas thanks to career-high scores from Watson (9.950) and Jada Glenn (9.925).

Senior A’Miracal Phillips will continue to serve as the lead on the event this week, and then it will be junior Katie Becker making her return to the lineup. Becker last competed on the road at Kentucky on February 1. She’ll be followed by Day, Glenn and then the two all-arounders, Gobourne and Watson.

The third rotation of the afternoon for Auburn will be on floor, and just two weeks ago, the Tigers posted their season high on floor with a 49.450 on the road at Florida.

The only change to the floor lineup will be in the lead position where Cerio is making her first appearance on the event since Auburn’s meet at Kentucky three weeks ago. The senior has earned a 9.800 or higher in two meets this season.

Following Cerio will be junior Skyler Sheppard and then Watson, Gobourne, Milliet and Day. Gobourne won the individual title in the last meet against Arkansas with a 9.925.

Auburn will close Sunday’s meet on beam and looking for consistency, the coaches will roll out the same lineup they used in the last meet against Arkansas that earned a 49.000 -- the third-highest score of the season to this point.

Watson, who is coming off a career-high performance on beam last week, will start things for the Tigers. Then it will be Sheppard and Gobourne followed by two seniors, Krippner and Milliet. Lastly, the anchor spot will once again be sophomore Meredith Sylvia. Outside of last week’s meet, Sylvia has been a rock as the team’s anchor. She’s currently second on the team and 13th in the region with an average of 9.796.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn’s 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

Fou4 of the team’s first six opponents are currently ranked in the Top 15, and the Tigers won four of those meets, including wins over No. 5 LSU and No. 7 Georgia. Their only loss this season came on the road at No. 3 Florida.

Next week is another road trip to face No. 9 Alabama.

KEEP CALM AND DERRIAN

Freshman Derrian Gobourne has been a quick study for Auburn gymnastics. Through the first month of the season, she's already won the all-around title three different times and earned SEC Freshman of the Week after two of those meets.

Against Georgia, Gobourne scored a 9.800 or higher on all four events, and her floor routine, a 9.950, earned a perfect 10 from one of the two judges. She also added a 9.800 on beam, which was a new career high, and finished with a 39.375 to edge out Georgia's Sidney Snead for the all-around crown.

Gobourne is currently fifth in the SEC and tied for 16th nationally in the all-around with an average of 39.358 through six meets. She's also among the top 30 in the country on both vault (t-24th) and floor (28th).

BAR SQUAD

Bars has been Auburn's strongest routine this season, and it was no different in its last meet against Arkansas as the Tigers set a new program record with a 49.600.

Three of the first four gymnasts to go earned a 9.900. Then senior Abby Milliet kept the momentum rolling with a 9.925 before anchor Gracie Day stuck her landing to close out the event with a career-high 9.975. It was Auburn's highest individual score on any event this season.

The performance elevated the Tigers into the top 5 nationally on bars, and they're currently No. 2 in the SEC behind Florida. Led by Milliet, who is tied for 21st nationally (9.875), the Tigers have three gymnasts ranked in the top 25 nationally on the event and seven ranked in the top 20 in the region.

VAULT-STARS

After a season-high 49.325 on vault against Arkansas last week, Auburn is currently third in the region and 11th nationally on the event with an average score of 49.111.

Sophomores Drew Watson and Jada Glenn both set new career highs against the Razorbacks as Watson won the individual title with a 9.950 and Glenn earned a 9.925. Watson is now No. 1 in the region and tied for 10th nationally on vault while teammate Derrian Gobourne is tied for 24th in the country.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: GRACIE DAY

» Junior Gracie Day will be one of five Auburn gymnasts returning home to Texas this week. Day posted a career-high on bars in the last meet against Arkansas, and two weeks prior, she returned to the floor lineup where she earned a 9.925 against Florida.

SEC HARDWARE

Following Auburn's win over No. 6 Georgia two weeks ago, Derrian Gobourne was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the second time this season.

Gobourne, who received the same honor two weeks prior after sharing the all-around title against LSU, once again won the all-around crown with a 39.375. The Florida native also claimed the individual title on floor with a 9.950 and scored a season-high 9.800 on beam.

After the LSU meet, senior Abby Milliet was named SEC Specialist of the Week. She scored a 9.900 or better on all three of her events (bars, beam and floor).

ALL-AROUND DUO

There have only been a handful of times in the past two decades that Auburn has had two gymnasts competing in the all-around at the same time.

However, this season the Tigers have both Drew Watson and Derrian Gobourne competing all-around, and one of the two has claimed the AA title in six of the seven meets this season.

In Auburn's win over Arkansas the last time out, Watson won the all-around title with a new career-high 39.625. The sophomore moved up to No. 33 in the country with an average of 39.250. Gobourne, who finished with a 39.400 in the last meet, is tied for 16th nationally with an average of 39.358.

ALMOST PERFECT

The last an Auburn gymnast to score a perfect 10 on an event was in 2004 when Rachael Tarantino did it on beam. Gracie Day nearly accomplished the feat last week against Arkansas when the junior earned a 9.975 on bars.

Teammate Derrian Gobourne also came close earlier this year on floor when one of the two judges gave her a 10. She ended up with a 9.950, her second 9.950 on floor this season.

UP NEXT

Auburn will close out the SEC regular season on the road at No. 9 Alabama next week. The meet (3/1) is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. CT and will be televised on SEC Network.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his ninth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

In addition, the Tigers earned the program's first No. 1 NCAA regional seed and captured the NCAA Ann Arbor Regional title with a 196.525.

Auburn enjoyed a breakout season in 2015 as Graba led the Tigers to the NCAA Championship Super Six for the first time in 22 years. That season, Auburn broke or tied 52 program records that season.

Auburn's sixth place finish at the Super Six was the Tigers' second best in history and highest since 1993 with a NCAA nationals record score of 197.075. The Tigers also had a program record Super Six score of 195.625.

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
