NO. 12 AUBURN TRAVELS TO TUSCALOOSA EYEING FIRST SEC TITLE

No. 12 Auburn has a chance to make history Friday night. With a win at No. 8 Alabama, the Tigers can clinch a share of the SEC regular-season championship for the first time in program history. It would also be their first ever win in Tuscaloosa.

"For over 40 years, Auburn has been in the role of trying to be the spoiler," Auburn head coach Jeff Graba said. "Alabama has been the team that usually had something to lose when we competed against them. This year, for the first time in Auburn history, we've actually reversed the roles. I'm trying to get our team to be excited about that role. They've never been there before."

"This is what they said they wanted when they got here, when we recruited them. They wanted to put our program in position to win championships. And we are now in a position to win a championship. We have to put our money where our mouth is and try to rise to the occasion."

"Rising to the occasion" doesn't mean any extra tricks or gimmicks. The coaching staff knows that if this Auburn team can just do what it's capable of and hit four events, they can compete with anybody in the conference – including Alabama. Win or lose, this will be the best SEC finish in program history.

IN THE RANKINGS

The first NQS rankings were released this week, and Auburn comes in at No. 12 following a win at Texas Woman's University on Sunday. Though happy with the win, the Tigers know they are better than the score (195.500) they posted.

Oklahoma remains at No. 1 in the new NQS rankings followed by UCLA, Florida, LSU and Utah. All eight SEC teams are ranked in the top 20 with Florida (No. 3), LSU (No. 4), Georgia (No. 7), Alabama (No. 8) and Kentucky (No. 10) all in the top 10. They are followed by Auburn (No. 12), Missouri (No. 16) and Arkansas (No. 20).

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA

» The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed nine sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers have reached new heights already in 2019 as season ticket holder numbers have risen yet again.

SCOUTING ALABAMA

With three SEC losses, Alabama is not in contention for the regular-season championship. However, this year's team still has postseason goals after winning the NCAA Regional last year and advancing to the NCAA Championships.

The Crimson Tide are led by a trio of seniors, Abby Armbricht, Angelina Giancroce and Ariana Guerra, who will all be honored prior to Friday's meet as a part of Senior Night.

Alabama also boasts a deep sophomore and junior class, which are highlighted by sophomore Lexi Graber — arguably the Tide's top gymnast this season. Graber is currently ranked top 20 in the SEC on vault, beam and floor.

The freshman class is noteworthy as well, in particular Shallon Olsen. A Canadian Olympian, Olsen got her college career off to a strong start after earning a silver medal and finishing runner-up to Simone Biles on the vault at the 2018 World Championships in the fall. Olsen is currently ranked eighth in the conference on the event with an NQS score of 9.865.

The Tide's season-high score came back in January at Georgia when they posted a 196.900 to beat the Gymdogs. They have scored a 196.700 or higher in five of their past six meets.

AUBURN/ALABAMA SERIES HISTORY

Auburn has never won at Alabama and trails in the all-time series, 10-124. However, the Tigers posted one of their highest scores from last season (196.900) against Alabama in the Elevate the Stage meet in Huntsville.

In 2016, Auburn earned the fourth-highest score in program history with a 197.275 to knock off Alabama at home. Current seniors Abby Milliet, Samantha Cerio and Taylor Krippner all played a part in the historic victory.

AUBURN LINEUP VS. ALABAMA

There's no holding back now. With the SEC title on the line, Auburn will look to throw its best lineup when it travels to Alabama on Friday night.

The Tigers will start on bars, their strongest and most consistent event this season. They are currently No. 6 nationally with an NQS score of 49.350, and two weeks ago, they set the program record on bars with a 49.600 against Arkansas.

The bars lineup has stayed nearly the same all season, and it's no different this week. Sophomore Drew Watson will once again lead off for Auburn, and then it's Taylor Krippner, one of three senior in the lineup. Krippner will be followed by freshman Derrian Gobourne and then the other two seniors, Samantha Cerio and Abby Milliet. Junior Gracie Day, who posted a career-high 9.975 against Arkansas, will serve as the anchor.

Next up is vault where the Tigers will lead off with senior A'Miracal Phillips, a late scratch from the lineup last week. After Phillips, it will be Krippner, Day and sophomore Jada Glenn followed by the two all-arounders, Gobourne and Watson. Auburn scored a season-high 49.325 on vault in its last SEC meet thanks to career highs from both Glenn (9.925) and Watson (9.950). The latter won the individual event title.

The last two events, floor and beam, have been up and down for the Tigers this season. They have looked great at times, like when they earned a 49.450 on floor at Florida, but they have also struggled at times on both events. The goal Friday will be to hit all four events, including floor and beam.

On floor, Auburn will stick with Cerio in the lead spot after she led off with a 9.800 in last week's meet at TWU. The Tigers will then turn to junior Emma Slappey, who posted a season-high 9.850 at Florida three weeks ago — her last appearance on floor. Following those two will be Watson, Gobourne, Milliet and Day. All four have scored a 9.900 or higher on floor this season.

The Tigers will close the meet on beam with Watson and Gobourne slated to go 1-2 in the first two spots. Next up is sophomore Allie Riddle, who earned a season-high 9.825 last week in what was just her second appearance this season. From there, it will be Krippner and Milliet followed by sophomore Meredith Sylvia, the team's anchor on beam for the majority of the season. Sylvia leads the team and is tied for 32nd nationally with an NQS score of 9.845.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

Auburn's 2019 schedule once again ranks in the Top 10 among the toughest schedules in the nation, coming in at No. 6.

Four of the team's first six opponents are currently ranked in the Top 10, and the Tigers won four of those meets, including wins over No. 4 LSU, No. 7 Georgia and No. 10 Kentucky. Their only loss this season came on the road at No. 3 Florida.

KEEP CALM AND DERRIAN

Freshman Derrian Gobourne has been a quick study for Auburn gymnastics. Through the first two months of the season, she's already won the all-around title four different times and earned SEC Freshman of the Week after two of those meets.

Against Georgia, Gobourne scored a 9.800 or higher on all four events, and her floor routine, a 9.950, earned a perfect 10 from one of the two judges. She also added a 9.800 on beam, which was a new career high, and finished with a 39.375 to edge out Georgia's Sidney Snead for the all-around crown.

Gobourne is currently fourth in the SEC and tied for 10th nationally in the all-around with an NQS score of 39.400. She's also among the top 40 in the country on vault (t-19th), bars (t-32nd) and floor (t-19th).

BAR SQUAD

Auburn put up yet another strong bars score in its last meet at TWU with a 49.275. It's the sixth time the Tigers have posted a 49.250 or higher on the event this season.

Two weeks ago against Arkansas, Auburn set a new program record on bars with a 49.600. After three of the first four gymnasts earned a 9.900, senior Abby Milliet kept the momentum rolling with a 9.925. Then it was anchor Gracie Day who stuck her landing to close out the event with a career-high 9.975. It was the highest individual score on any event this season.

Through the first eight meets, Auburn is currently second in the SEC and sixth nationally on bars. Led by senior Samantha Cerio, who is tied for 22nd nationally (9.885), the Tigers have four gymnasts ranked in the top 40 nationally on the event.

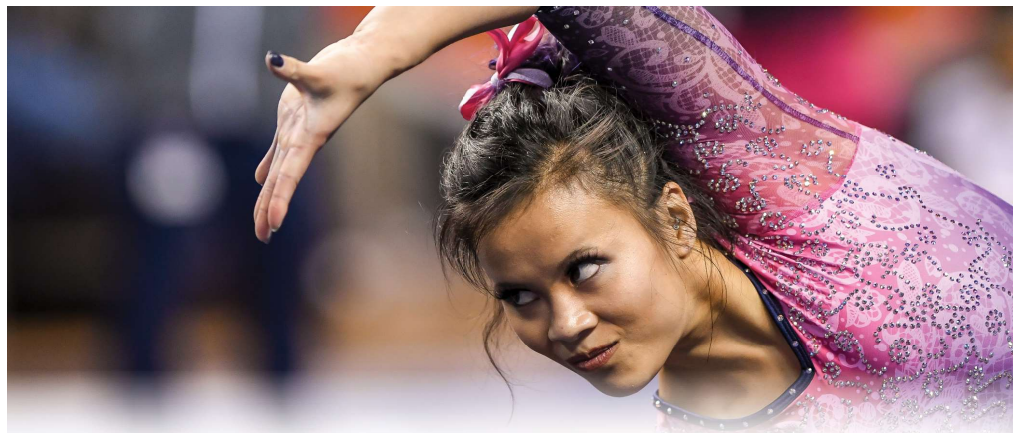

VAULT-STARS

Thanks to a season-high 49.325 on vault against Arkansas two weeks ago, Auburn is currently fourth in the region and 12th nationally on the event with an NQS score of 49.110.

Sophomores Drew Watson and Jada Glenn both set new career highs against the Razorbacks as Watson won the individual title with a 9.950 and Glenn earned a 9.925. Watson is second in the region and tied for 17th nationally on vault while teammate Derrian Gobourne is in a tie for 19th in the country.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: SAMANTHA CERIO

» Senior Samantha Cerio returned to floor last week for the first time since Feb. 1 and posted one of Auburn's better scores with a 9.800. Cerio has been a mainstay on bars all season where she currently ranks 6th in the SEC and is tied for 22nd nationally (9.885).

SEC HARDWARE

Following Auburn's win over No. 6 Georgia two weeks ago, Derrian Gobourne was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the second time this season.

Gobourne, who received the same honor two weeks prior after sharing the all-around title against LSU, once again won the all-around crown with a 39.375. The Florida native also claimed the individual title on floor with a 9.950 and scored a season-high 9.800 on beam.

After the LSU meet, senior Abby Milliet was named SEC Specialist of the Week. She scored a 9.900 or better on all three of her events (bars, beam and floor).

ALL-AROUND DUO

There have only been a handful of times in the past two decades that Auburn has had two gymnasts competing in the all-around at the same time.

However, this season the Tigers have both Drew Watson and Derrian Gobourne competing all-around, and one of the two has claimed the AA title in seven of the eight meets this season.

In Auburn's last meet, Gobourne won the all-around title with a 39.425. The week before, it was Watson who took home the title after posting a 39.625, a new career high. Gobourne is currently tied for 10th nationally in the all-around (39.400), and not far behind her is Watson at No. 23 (39.260).

ALMOST PERFECT

The last an Auburn gymnast to score a perfect 10 on an event was in 2004 when Rachael Tarantino did it on beam. Gracie Day nearly accomplished the feat last week against Arkansas when the junior earned a 9.975 on bars.

Teammate Derrian Gobourne also came close earlier this year on floor when one of the two judges gave her a 10. She ended up with a 9.950, her second 9.950 on floor this season.

UP NEXT

A week after competing in Tuscaloosa, Auburn will face Alabama again next week in Birmingham for the annual Elevate the Stage meet on Saturday, March 10 at 7 p.m. CT.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his ninth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2019 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

In addition, the Tigers earned the program's first No. 1 NCAA regional seed and captured the NCAA Ann Arbor Regional title with a 196.525.

Auburn enjoyed a breakout season in 2015 as Graba led the Tigers to the NCAA Championship Super Six for the first time in 22 years. That season, Auburn broke or tied 52 program records that season.

Auburn's sixth place finish at the Super Six was the Tigers' second best in history and highest since 1993 with a NCAA nationals record score of 197.075. The Tigers also had a program record Super Six score of 195.625.

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
