NO. 13 AUBURN OPENS SEASON AT COMPETITIVE COLLEGIATE CHALLENGE

After a strong finish to last season, the No. 13 Auburn gymnastics team kicks off a promising 2020 season at the competitive Collegiate Challenge in Anaheim, Calif., at the Anaheim Arena. The Tigers will compete in the afternoon session at 3 p.m. CT, facing off with No. 7 Denver, No. 21 Arizona State and No. 25 Penn State. Competing in the evening session will be No. 1 Oklahoma, No. 4 UCLA, No. 9 California and No. 22 Stanford.

"We've talked a lot about starting the season off on a good foot," head coach Jeff Graba said. "We have quite a few young people on our team this year and many of them will be in critical roles early. I think it is essential that they learn on the job very quickly and this meet, with all the competition it brings, will provide a great opportunity to grow under pressure."

IN THE RANKINGS

The 2020 Auburn gymnastics team will kick off the season at No. 13, the Women's Collegiate Gymnastics Association announced.

"Being ranked 13th in the preseason poll is exciting to see," Graba said. "I think we'll have a tremendous team this year and the coaches around the country seem to agree. It's a great place to start and we're looking forward to the season."

Two Southeastern Conference teams are ranked in the Top 5, while all eight schools are among the Top 20. Defending national champion Oklahoma is No. 1, with LSU (No. 2), Florida (No. 3), UCLA (No. 4) and Utah (No. 5) rounding out the top. SEC rivals Georgia and Alabama rank No. 8 and No. 10, while Kentucky is 12th and Missouri is 16th.

AUBURN LINEUP

A handful of Tigers will get experience to start the new season as the Collegiate Challenge will provide a great opportunity for Auburn as the event will be held on the podium.

GAMEDAY EXPERIENCE: AUBURN ARENA

» The Auburn gymnastics program has enjoyed nine sellouts (7,424) in the last four seasons at Auburn Arena. The Tigers once again set a new season ticket record in 2020.

Auburn will kick off the four-team session on bars, having a variety of experienced returners with newcomers in the lineup. Senior Katie Becker is down as leadoff, which is a familiar spot for the Boone, N.C., product who has 20 starts under her belt. A pair of freshmen follow in their first-career starts - Adeline Sabados and Aria Brusch.

The opening rotation closes out with a trio of big routines as junior Drew Watson, senior Gracie Day and freshman Derrian Gobourne are set to compete.

The Tigers follow on beam, opening with a senior and closing with a senior. Fifth-year Emma Slappey returns to the beam lineup after totaling 27 starts her first two seasons. Fellow fifth-year Skyler Sheppard, who has a career-best 9.875 on the apparatus, will anchor the event.

Brusch is slated to go second with Watson following. Freshman Morgan Leigh Oldham will get her first start and junior Meredith Sylvia will go fifth. Sylvia, who has competed in every meet in the event so far in her career, has a pair of 9.925s under her belt.

Rotation three brings the Tigers to floor with four returners and two freshmen in the lineup. Slappey once again leads things off and brings the most experience, competing in 32 meets during her career. Day is back in the Auburn lineup, while freshman Cassie Stevens makes her debut in the Orange and Blue. Brusch is slated to compete in her third event of the day and Sheppard follows in the fifth slot. Gobourne is set to anchor with her powerful and fun routine.

Vault is the final event for the squad and three of the six will compete vaults with a 10.0 start value to start the season. Sheppard, and junior Jada Glenn are down for the first two slots with Day following at third. Stevens will follow in the fourth slot, while big vaulters Watson and Gobourne will close out the day.

A DECADE OF GRABA

The 2020 season marks the 10th with head coach Jeff Graba. The program's leader arrived on the Plains prior to the 2011 season and brought the Tigers to another level on the national stage.

For his efforts over the past nine seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Recently, Graba helped coach the program's first national champion in Derrian Gobourne (2019 - vault). In addition, the Tigers score the program's best regional score in 2019 and had its best SEC regular season last year as the squad came in second prior to postseason action.

He has led his student-athletes to 13 All-America honors (both NACGC/W and NCAA) and 16 All-SEC recognitions. Leading the way was Caitlin Atkinson, who amassed nine All-America nods and was named SEC Gymnast of the Year in 2016.

With the help of continuous progress, Graba and the Tigers have enjoyed growth when it comes to home attendance each season. Each season, the team's attendance average has climbed higher and higher and after averaging just 3,583 fans in his first season, Auburn finished 2018 with an average of 6,334. That marked ranked seventh nationally. In addition, the Tigers have enjoyed nine sellouts of Auburn Arena (7.424).

Away from competition, Graba's teams have also been outstanding in the classroom. In total, the Tigers have totaled 53 NACGC/W Scholastic All-America nods and 100 SEC Academic Honor Roll recognitions.

2019 IN REVIEW

The Tigers finished 2019 at No. 16 in the rankings, having an NQS of 392.420 and reaching the sports first NCAA Sweet Sixteen. The final rankings for teams inside the Top 36 but not advancing to the NCAA Championships is based on the NQS, which is the sum of the team's RQS and its final NCAA Regional score.

The squad narrowly missed a share of the regular season SEC championship, finishing with a 5-2 record in the conference for sole possession of second place. That was the highest regular season finish in program history.

Auburn continued its trend of upping its RQS, finishing the regular season with a 196.695. The squad also set a program high in the postseason, earning a 197.075 on the second day of the NCAA Regional.

Individually, the program saw it's first-ever NCAA Champion come from Derrian Gobourne. The Sarasota, Fla., product won the regional vault crown with a career-high 9.95 to qualify for the NCAA Championship in Fort Worth. She finished in a tie for first with another 9.95 and secured Auburn's first national crown.

In addition to her national and regional vault titles, Gobourne earned at least a share of three more vault titles throughout the season. She added five all-around wins, four floor titles and one bars crown to her resume and secured the team's MVP award.

At the end of it all, Gobourne concluded her first season on the Plains as a first team All-American and as an All-SEC and a SEC All-Freshman performer.

Joining her in the all-around this season was Drew Watson. The Tyler, Texas, native captured six all-around titles this year, while also earning five vault crowns and one floor title.

VAULT PREVIEW

The Tigers are looking forward to big strides in vault this season as the squad returns five of its six vaulters from 2019. Highlighting the crew are the trio of senior Gracie Day, junior Drew Watson and sophomore Derrian Gobourne. Both Watson and Gobourne have a career-high of 9.95 under their belts, while Gobourne is the defending national champion in the event. In addition to the returning talent, the rest of the Auburn vault crew has improved greatly in the offseason.

"I do think vault is possibly the event that has improved the most this year for us," Graba said. "We have about 8-9 very competitive vaults to choose from this year and 5-6 of them have a 10.0 start value. I think our fans will see quite a bit more dynamic and powerful vaulting this year."

BARS PREVIEW

Auburn bars workers will have big shoes to fill with the departure of Samantha Cerio, Abby Milliet and Taylor Krippner last season. But the crew is up to the task.

Senior Gracie Day highlights the corps, recently setting a career high in 2019 with a 9.975. Joining her in experience is classmate Katie Becker, junior Drew Watson and sophomore Derrian Gobourne. Becker and Gobourne have proven to be consistent scorers for the squad, while Watson is capable of putting up a big score. Freshmen Adeline Sabados and Aria Bruschi are also expected to make an impact on the Tigers this year.

"It's true that bars would appear to be the event hit hardest by the loss of last year's seniors," Graba said. "However, we have brought in quite a few talented freshmen and they should have an impact right away. Also, we still have five of our Top 8 bar routines from last year returning so we feel we have good depth as well as a lot of potential on this event."

BEAM PREVIEW

Beam is another rotation that may have lost some big contributors in Abby Milliet and Taylor Krippner, but also return some of the top talent from 2019.

Seniors Emma Slappey and Skyler Sheppard and junior Meredith Sylvia lead the way with a lot of experience and big numbers for the Tigers. Drew Watson competed in all events last season, while Gobourne earned a spot in the lineup in all but one. Freshmen Aria Bruschi, Morgan Leigh and Cassie Stevens add depth and high skill to the lineup.

"Beam has quickly become our most competitive event in the gym," Graba said. "I think we have easily 10-11 strong routines to choose from and the choice is not easy. All of the potential routines are great options. We are bringing back a lot of veterans on this event, but we have really seen growth in the competition for lineup spots on beam and that is pushing everyone to get better every day."

FLOOR PREVIEW

Auburn's floor rotation is set to be an exciting one in 2020 as the team brings back big routines with a lot of personality. Derrian Gobourne and Skyler Sheppard highlight the group of talented Tigers with seniors Emma Slappey and Gracie Day and junior Drew Watson bringing consistency and solid routines. Freshmen Aria Bruschi, Cassie Stevens and Morgan Leigh Oldham are also among the group of talent and will be contributing to the success of the group early on.

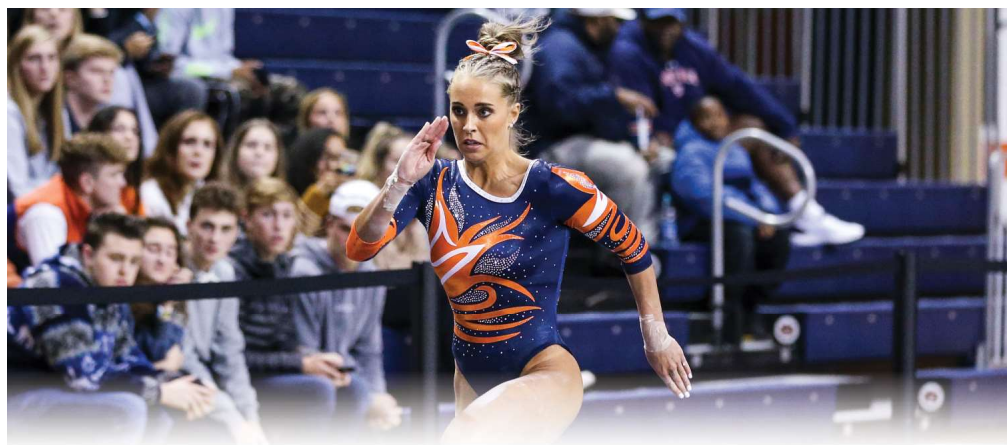

"We're really excited about this group," Graba said. "We have a lot of routines that will be fun for our fans and the team has been working hard to improve their big skills this the offseason. It's going to be a fun group to watch."

UP NEXT

Auburn kicks off its home slate vs. in-state rival Alabama, Jan. 10, at 8 p.m. CT in Auburn Arena.

GYMNAST TO WATCH: DREW WATSON

» Junior Drew Watson will once again be a leader on the team in 2020 after the Tyler, Texas, product had a successful sophomore season in 2019. Watson competed in the all-around in all meets for Auburn last year, scoring a career-best 39.625 in February.
