"This trip is not going to be easy," head coach Jeff Graba said. "I think we can get better on the road this week and it's going to be a great opportunity for mental success. We haven't had much success at Kentucky and we're hoping to get a good meet in and come away an even stronger, more cohesive team."

IN THE RANKINGS

The Auburn gymnastics team enters the week at No. 9 per RoadtoNationals.com. The weekly rankings are based on the overall team score from the season-opening weekend.

"It feels good to have a good meet under our belt and to be ranked in the Top 10," head coach Jeff Graba said. "As always, we are focusing on the road ahead and this Friday will be a great test. Not only is it a tough road meet, but also because we have room to improve as well."

This week's top five has Florida (No. 1) and Oklahoma (No. 2) separated by .050 points. Utah is third, while Alabama and LSU are fourth and fifth, respectively.

Arkansas (No. 6) and Georgia (No. 7) are also among the top 10 with Missouri ranked No. 14.

Junior Derrian Gobourne is ranked tied for third on bars (9.900) and tied for fourth on floor (9.925). The Sarasota, Fla., product is also tied for third in the all-around (39.425). Sophomore Cassie Stevens is tied for 12th in the all-around (39.225) for the Tigers.

with Stevens competing in the all-around and Bruschi going in three of four events. Sabados competed on bars in every meet as a freshman, while the rest of the crew provided much-needed depth.

Auburn's freshman class features a group of athletes expected to make big strides in 2021. The group of Brooke Butler, Olivia Hollingsworth, Gabby McLaughlin, Payton Smith and Tara Walsh.

Hollingsworth is set to make her first start in the all-around vs. Kentucky, while McLaughlin will compete in three of four events. Payton Smith will compete on vault for the squad.

"Olivia wasn't training at full speed in December so we wanted to get her out there against Florida and get her warmed up," head coach Jeff Graba said. "At the last minute, we moved lineups around because she was warming up really well. She's rising to the occasion and improving really quickly. We needed her to step up and she's continuing to do that."

"Gabby excelled on beam for us and putting a freshman fifth on beam is an act of faith, especially in the first meet," Graba said. "She's proving that she's a gamer."

VAULT PREVIEW

Auburn will be looking to the youth of its roster to fill some big shoes from last year's solid vault season. The 2020 Tigers finished tied for 10th nationally in the event and does return three 10.0 vaults from last season in Drew Watson, Derrin Gobourne and Cassie Stevens. Watson was a first team All-American in the event, while Gobourne captured the 2019 national championship. Stevens returns as an SEC All-Freshman performer in the event.

"I think vault will be another bright spot this year," Graba said. "We actually have some depth this year and in our mind, we should have some predictable consistency this season. As long as we stay healthy, we should be able to do some really good things on vault."

BARS PREVIEW

Auburn bars workers will have big shoes to fill with the departure of Gracie Day last season. But the crew is up to the task as Gobourne and sophomore trio Adeline Sabados, Aria Bruschi and Stevens also return. Gobourne secured second team

GYMNAST TO WATCH: DREW WATSON

» Senior Drew Watson is looking to build off a solid first meet of the season vs. Florida. The All-American shined on floor, scoring a 9.85 for the Tigers. She'll be in three of four events vs. Kentucky.

All-America honors in the event at the end of 2020.

"We're really focusing on developing more depth on bars this year," Graba said. "The returning group of starters are doing well in the gym and have really improved their routines this year. We're excited to develop that depth, while also encouraging the top six to really go for it this year."

BEAM PREVIEW

Beam is an event that the Tigers boast a wealth of depth on. With returners like seniors Drew Watson and Meredith Sylvia and sophomores Bruschi and Stevens, the team is looking to refine this group into a consistent rotation that does well under pressure.

"We have a lot of people who could do beam, but the real trick is to figure out who's capable in the moment," Graba said. "We're starting to see some people rise to the occasion in practice and were really excited to see how this group continues to improve this year."

FLOOR PREVIEW

Auburn's floor rotation lost big hitters in Skyler Sheppard and Day as well as Emma Slappey from last season and will be full of youth in 2021.

Leading the way is Gobourne, who notched a career-best 9.95 on two occasions last year. She's expected to bring another fun routine with big skills this season. Joining her will be Watson, Stevens and Bruschi who all competed in the event last year.

"We're feeling really good about where we are on floor as long as we stay healthy," Graba said. "We have solid returners in this group that have been consistent and we also have people stepping up with really good routines. We're excited to see what happens."

UP NEXT

Auburn continues its road swing, traveling to rival and No. 4 Alabama next Friday, Jan. 22. The two squad will face off at 7:30 p.m. CT in Tuscaloosa on SEC Network.

Her selection marked the first All-America honor for a Tiger in the category since 2016.

Derrian Gobourne was placed on the second team for her efforts on bars in 2020. Her All-America honor in the event is the first for any Tiger on bars at the conclusion of the regular season. Gobourne finished tied for 14th nationally with a 9.905.

With the help of continuous progress, Graba and the Tigers have enjoyed growth when it comes to home attendance each season. Each season, the team's attendance average has climbed higher and higher and after averaging just 3,583 fans in his first season, Auburn finished the 2020 season with a new program record average of 6,364 fans. In addition, the Tigers have enjoyed 10 sellouts of Auburn Arena (7,424).
