AZTEC STORYLINES

CLOSING OUT FEBRUARY: After co-hosting the Tony Gwynn Legacy, San Diego State closes its longest homestand of the season after hosting in-city foe San Diego Tuesday night at 6:00 p.m. The Aztecs-Toreros contest will be streamed on the Mountain West Network and the first 200 fans in attendance will receive a free taco.

WE'RE OFF TO A GOOD START: With Tuesday's game being the final game of February for the Aztecs, SDSU has a chance to finish the month at 6-2, which would give SDSU their first February with a winning percentage of .750 or better since the 2015 team went 11-1 in February.

SERIES HISTORY: No strangers to each other, SDSU is 10-5 in its last 15 games against USD and 75-57-3 all-time against their crosstown counterpart. The two teams split a pair of midweek contests last year, with the away team winning each contest. USD beat SDSU 3-2 in 10 innings in the first meeting last year, but the Aztecs ended the season series with a dominating 9-3 win at Fowler Park last March.

A LOOK AT THE AZTECS: SDSU has started the season at 5-2, with both losses coming by a one-run margin. SDSU has outscored their opponents 44-29 and own a .298 team batting average and 3.57 earned run average over the first seven games of the season.

A RECAP OF THE LEGACY: SDSU put on a 2-1 performance in the fourth annual Tony Gwynn Legacy, matching last year's 2-1 showing as the Aztecs' best record in the San Diego-based tournament.

The Aztecs held off a late rally by Utah as Matt Rudick hit a go-ahead RBI single in the bottom of the eighth just before Casey Schmitt go out of a bases-loaded, no-out situation in the ninth to preserve the 1-run win.

SDSU was shut out for just the third time in the last 68 games against Oklahoma in a 1-0 loss.

SDSU quickly erased a 3-0 deficit against Kansas State, ultimately using an eight-run sixth inning highlighted by a Chad Bible 3-RBI double to take the lead. Justin Goossen-Brown, making his third appearance of the week, earned the win with three innings of shutout, one-hit relief.

STRIKEOUTS GALORE: San Diego State ranks second in the country (minimum two games played) in strikeouts per nine innings, owning 91 strikeouts through seven games played for 13.0 strikeouts per nine innings. SDSU had a streak of six consecutive games with 12 or more strikeouts snapped on Sunday's 10-7 win over Kansas State. SDSU entered the 2019 season not having a streak of four or more 12+ strikeout games since at least 2000.

FUN WITH TWO: The Aztecs have scored 27 of their 44 runs this year with two outs and as a team are hitting .343 (23-for-67) with two outs.

ALL GOOD THINGS MUST COME TO AN END: SDSU saw a 86-game winning streak when leading after eight innings come to an end on February 16 after surrendering a three-run lead in the ninth inning to San Francisco. The streak stood as one of the top five longest in the nation.

Casey Schmitt also saw his consecutive scoreless innings streak come to a close after finishing his freshman year with 25.1 consecutive scoreless innings.

CALIFORNIA LOVE: Since 2014, the Aztecs lead all Division I California programs in win total. Also, over that span, SDSU is 97-45 (.683) when playing in-state counterparts.

PRESEASON FAVORITES: Mountain West head coaches named SDSU the preseason favorite in the conference, collecting four first-place votes and 32 overall points. SDSU also placed Casey Schmitt, Logan Boyer, and Julian Escobedo on the all-MW preseason team, leaving SDSU in a tie with Nevada for most selections on the preseason all-conference team. SDSU is preseason favorites for the first time since 2014, when SDSU was co-preseason favorites with New Mexico.

In addition, both D1Baseball.com and Baseball America have also projected SDSU to win the Mountain West.

CLASS OF THE MOUNTAIN WEST: In addition to winning their fifth conference crown in the last six years, SDSU led the conference in nearly every team pitching category last season including earned run average (4.03), opposing batting average (.253), strikeouts (467), wins (39), saves (19), hits allowed per nine innings (8.67), fewest runs allowed (291), fewest earned runs allowed (240), fewest extra-base hits allowed (125), fewest triples allowed (9), and fewest home runs allowed (26).

SUCCESS AT TONY GWYNN STADIUM: The Aztecs set a Tony Gwynn Stadium record (since 1997) with 25 home wins last season, besting the previous mark of 24 set in 1997, 2002, and 2014. Since the start of the 2012 season, the Aztecs are 134-87 (.606) when playing at home.

PRESEASON ALL-AMERICAN CASEY SCHMITT: After a record-setting freshman season, sophomore RHP/IF Casey Schmitt was recognized as a preseason all-American by both the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (Second Team) and Collegiate Baseball Newspaper (Third Team). After setting SDSU's single-season ERA record (minimum 30 IP) at 0.28, Schmitt was the first Aztec to become a Baseball America First Team Freshman All-American since Stephen Strasburg did so in 2007.

Schmitt entered 2019 having thrown 25.1 scoreless innings and was the only player in the nation last season to have an ERA under 1.00 (minimum 15 IP) and drive in 30 or more runs at the plate. In the Mountain West Championships, Schmitt became the first freshman in the league to win Most Valuable Player since SDSU's Ty France did so in 2013.

THE NEW GUYS: SDSU has 14 newcomers for the 2019 season, split between 10 true freshmen, two graduate transfers, and two junior college transfers. Three freshmen in Brian Leonhardt (No. 9 LHP), Jaden Fein (No. 9 OF) and Noah Kaagan (No. 11 OF) rank inside the top 11 at their respective positions among class of 2018 California high school players. Leonhardt, although ranked as a pitcher, has opened the year as SDSU's starting first baseman.

SDSU also added a pair of graduate transfers from USC in Angelo Armenta and Brad Wegman. Armenta has started the year as SDSU's shortstop, while Wegman begins the year as SDSU's Sunday starter. Armenta recorded a career .239 average in 86 games for the Trojans, while Wegman logged a 5-6 record and 3.93 ERA over four years in Los Angeles. Wegman last season did not allow a run over 10 innings pitched before his season was cut limited due to injury.

Mike Jarvis, a transfer from Saddleback College, has joined the starting lineup after recording a career .297/.405/.399 slash line over two years in junior college. Jarvis also provides the Aztec lineup with some speed, having stolen 20 bases on 30 chances in his junior college career. Jacob Cruce also comes from the junior college ranks and led San Joaquin Delta College to a CCCAA state championship and 43-9 record after leading the team with 11 home runs.

REPLACING WHAT'S GONE: The Aztecs lost four position player starters -- all drafted by MLB teams -- and two pitchers who ranked near the top of the Mountain West. Chase Calabuig, SDSU's all-time games played leader and leading hitter last season, was drafted in the 27th round by Oakland, while Jordan Verdon, the team's leader in home runs, extra-base hits, and RBIs a year ago, was picked by Detroit in the 23rd round. Starting shortstop David Hensley and starting catcher Dean Nevarez were picked up by Houston (26th round) and Seattle (19th round), respectively. 2018 Mountain West Co-Pitcher of the Year Garrett Hill was drafted by Detroit in the 26th round.

SDSU also lost the Mountain West's all-time pitching appearances leader, Jacob Erickson, who ended his career with 120 appearances. Erickson recorded a 2.37 ERA against Mountain West opponents -- good for the second-best mark among all qualified pitchers in the conference. Erickson, an all-MW second team honoree, also led the conference in strikeout-to-walk ratio.

2019 SCHEDULE: The 2019 schedule features four teams that were ranked in preseason national polls, including No. 3/8 Texas Tech who visits Tony Gwynn Stadium on March 5-6. The Aztecs visit defending national champion No. 8/10 Oregon State on April 2-3. SDSU has a weekend series at No. 25/NR Cal State Fullerton from April 12-13 and have a home-and-home with No. NR/25 UC Irvine, with the Anteaters visiting America's Finest City on Feb. 19 before SDSU makes the trip north on April 16.

The Aztecs play each of their first eight games and 16 of their first 20 games at home. After April, where the Aztecs have just four home games for the entire month, SDSU closes its regular season schedule with seven of its last 10 games at home. SDSU's weekend series at Cal State Fullerton is its only non-conference weekend on the road.

SDSU's 2019 schedule features 32 home games and 24 road games.

IN THE NATIONAL CONVERSATION: The Aztecs are one of 18 teams in the country to have reached a regional five times in the last six seasons, one of 13 teams in the country to have won 39 or more games five times in the last six years, and one of nine teams to have hit .300 or better in each of the last two seasons. SDSU is one of just three west coast programs to have played in five regionals since 2013, joined by only Oregon State and Cal State Fullerton.

Teams that have reached five regionals in the last six years: Arkansas, Cal State Fullerton, Clemson, Dallas Baptist, Florida, Florida State, Indiana, Louisville, LSU, Mississippi State, NC State, Oklahoma State, Ole Miss, Oregon State, Rice, San Diego State, Texas A&M, Vanderbilt

ONLY ONES: The Aztecs are the only team in the country to have won five conference tournament championships in the last six seasons.

GOOD IN ALL ASPECTS: The Aztecs were one of five teams in the country last season to have a batting average above .300, an ERA below 4.05, and a fielding percentage above .973 last season, joined by only Oregon State, New Mexico State, Ole Miss, and Minnesota.

HOMEGROWN: 11 players on the SDSU roster are from San Diego county. Last season, San Diego natives accounted for 411 of SDSU's 632 hits (65 percent) while San Diego native pitchers combined for a 1.67 earned run average over 64.1 innings pitched.

* Mountain West Tournament Championship (3)
! NCAA Tournament Appearance (3)

Mark Martinez heads into his fifth season as head coach and 14th at SDSU in 2019 after being named the late Tony Gwynn's successor on August 20, 2014.

During his fourth season as head coach in 2018, Martinez became the fastest head coach in Mountain West history to win three conference championships. In 2017, Martinez logged his 100th win as head coach and became the fastest head coach in program history to reach the century mark.

Martinez led SDSU to a 39-21 performance in 2018, leaving the Aztecs as one of 13 teams in the nation to have won 39 or more games four times in the past five years. Since the start of the 2014 season — Martinez's final year as SDSU's head assistant coach under Gwynn — the Aztecs have recorded 185 wins, the most among all Division I California programs.

San Diego State will enter the 2019 season as the only team in Division I baseball with five conference tournament championships in the last six seasons. SDSU is one of 18 programs in the nation to have played in five NCAA Regionals in the last six years and one of just two programs in California, joined by only Cal State Fullerton. Statistically, the Aztecs are one of just nine teams to have hit .300 or better in each of the last two seasons and will enter 2019 having led the MW in earned run average in back-to-back seasons.

Martinez, who has been a part of 1,030 collegiate baseball wins since starting his coaching career in 1984, enters his fifth season as a head coach with a record of 143-103 (.581). Under his watch, SDSU has reached its highest academic progress rate, highest team grade point average, and highest total of scholar-athletes in its 82-year history. Last April, Martinez received the Center for Community Solutions Champions Award, recognizing his efforts in starting healthy relationships and consent education training with SDSU baseball student-athletes and coaches.

Fifteen Aztecs have been selected by the MLB First-Year Player draft and 10 Aztecs have been named Mountain West scholar athletes (3.5 GPA or better) since 2015. Martinez has also directed 21 student-athletes to all-MW honors over the last four seasons, including back-to-back MW Pitchers of the Year (Brett Seeburger — 2017, Garrett Hill — 2018) and 2017 MW Player of the Year Danny Sheehan.

Martinez entered the start of his head coaching career with 31 years of coaching experience as an assistant coach, split between nine years on Gwynn's Aztec staff (2006–2014), 17 years at New Mexico (1989–2005), and five seasons at his alma mater Mesa State (1984–1988). With Gwynn, Martinez helped SDSU end an 18-year drought from the NCAA postseason with an appearance in 2009.

He has also helped build an academic program that saw the highest APR in the history of the program last season, as well as the most scholar-athletes and highest team GPA in the history of the program.

Martinez has had 42 players drafted in his time at San Diego State, and had seven of those draft picks make the major leagues (Stephen Strasburg, Addison Reed, Justin Masterson, Bruce Billings, Quintin Berry, Lance Zawadzki, and Greg Allen).

In 2017, Martinez guided SDSU to a 42-21 record and a fourth conference title in the past five seasons. Statistically, his offense was among the national leaders in several categories while the defense set a school record for fielding percentage. He also helped produce the Mountain West Tony Gwynn Player of the Year (Danny Sheehan) and the league's Pitcher of the Year (Brett Seeburger). A total of six Aztecs earned all-conference honors while two (Sheehan, Tyler Adkison) were recognized as third-team All-Americans. In his inaugural season at the helm of the Aztec program, Martinez saw his team capture its third consecutive Mountain West Championship and earn a third straight berth in the NCAA Regionals.

The team's final 41-23 record marked the first time the Aztecs finished with back-to-back 40-win campaigns since the 1990 and 1991 seasons. Seven Aztecs earned all-league honors and the team produced a Freshman All-American, three All-West Region selections, three members of the NCAA Regional all-tournament team and five athletes on the conference championship all-tourney team including the MVP for the third year in a row. Four players (Bubba Derby, Steven Pallares, Mark Seyler, Ty France) were taken in the 2015 Major League draft as well. During the 2014 season, Martinez helped lead the Aztecs to their second consecutive conference championship. The overall 42-21 record was the best win percentage in 30 years of the program. The Aztecs also made their second consecutive regional, playing in Lafayette, Louisiana, as the No. 3 seed.

After the season, the 2014 Aztecs saw six players drafted (Michael Cederoth, Greg Allen, Brad Haynal, Tim Zier, Brandon Thomas and Justin Hepner) and saw another sign as an undrafted free agent (Evan Potter). Of the six players that signed after the 2014 season, only one (Cederoth) had been drafted before their time at San Diego State. In addition closer Michael Cederoth was also named a Baseball America First-Team All-American while third baseman Ty France was named a Baseball America Third Team All-American. Martinez was also an integral part of recruiting the 2014 recruiting class, which was ranked as the 19th-best freshman class in the country by Baseball America.

Martinez was hired as an assistant coach on July 28, 2005, arriving at SDSU after 17 years as an assistant at the University of New Mexico. His responsibilities included being in charge of the Aztec infielders and serving as SDSU's third base coach during games. In addition, is involved with the Aztec baseball camps and clinics, a series of seminars offered each winter and summer. During his tenure as a hitting and infield coach at New Mexico, Martinez was a key member in leading the Lobo offense that became one of the most prominent in the nation under his tutelage. New Mexico was ranked among the top 11 teams in the nation in hitting his final four seasons and the Lobos were ranked among the top 10 in batting, slugging, doubles, triples and homers in 2005. He also helped lead the Lobos to the 2000 Mountain West Conference regular-season title. Over his 17 seasons with New Mexico, he coached 47 all-conference selections and four conference players of the year. UNM also produced eight All-Americans, four freshman All-Americans and four Academic All-Americans during that span. In addition, 31 players were drafted in his 17 years at UNM.

Martinez came to New Mexico in 1988 after a five-year stint as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Mesa State College in Grand Junction, Colo. He was an assistant there from 1984-88. Martinez played shortstop at Mesa State from 1982-84, earning all-conference and all-district honors as a senior. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1984. He completed his master's in sports administration from New Mexico in January 1990. In addition to his work with the Lobos, Martinez gained valuable experience in the summers of 1993 and 1994 as head coach of the Mat-su Miners in the Alaska Summer League.

Born Dec. 18, 1961, in Aurora, Colo., Martinez graduated from Longmont (Colo.) High School in 1980. He and wife, Jada Lucey Martinez, formerly UNM's associate athletic director for development, have two children: a daughter, Marissa, and a son, Cade
