GAME 15 - JMU at PENN STATE

SERIES HISTORY

- The Dukes and Nittany Lions are even in the all-time program series. The current record sits at 4-4-2 against Penn State, but the Dukes have never won in Happy Valley. In those three matches, JMU has been outscored 4-0.

SCOUTING PENN STATE

- Penn State enters play on Tuesday with a 8-2-2 record and sits on top of the Big 10 standings. The Nittany Lions have scored 23 goals this season, while allowing just 16 to find the back of the net. 10 Nittany Lions players have found the back of the net this season including Aaron Molloy and Liam Butts who both have scored six times. Five different Penn State players have scores multiple goals this season and Christian Sload has added four assists to his two goals.

LAST TIME OUT

- Last time out, the James Madison men's soccer team hosted UNCW in a battle of tops teams in the CAA. The Dukes and Seahawks were scoreless through 90 minutes, with JMU outshooting UNCW 12-3. In the 93rd minute Jacob Evans took a shot from deep in the corner that deflected off TJ Bush and into the back of the net for the game winner. With the win UNCW moved into sole possession of first place in the CAA standings and controls their own destiny. The Dukes fall to second place and are still in shape to host the quarterfinals and semifinals for the CAA tournament.

QUICK KICKS

- JMU lost its first match at home and first match in CAA play this past Saturday falling 1-0 in overtime to UNCW.
- The Dukes have failed to score a goal in their last two matches, falling 1-0 to No. 1 UVA and UNCW.
- Tuesday's match will be the first time since 2016 that the Dukes will head to University Park to take on Penn State. The two programs played last season at Sentara Park.
- The back-to-back shutouts the Dukes have faced, marks the first time since September 29 and Oct 2, when the Dukes fell to No. 14 UNCW 2-0 and drew with No. 17 NC State.

WELCOME BACK CARSON

- Carson Jeffris saw his first action of the 2019 season on Saturday evening, after being sidelined by an injury in the offseason.

- Jeffris scored eight goals for the Dukes last season, collecting four assists. Jeffris played in 22 matches for the Dukes and started five. Jeffris saw nine minutes in his first match back and did not register any statistics.

FIGHTING FOR SEEDING

- James Madison fell to second in the CAA standings after Saturday's loss to UNCW. The Dukes were tied with the Seahawks, until UNCW scored in the 94th minute to defeat JMU at home.

- The Dukes didn't fall are, sitting just three points outside the top spot once again. JMU can still win the regular season with some help, but are sitting in good position to host the quarterfinals and semifinals at Sentara Park.

FERRIOL HAS COOLED OFF

- Since starting the season hot, Manuel Ferriol has cooled off in his last four matches. Ferriol has scored just one goal during that span and was unable to register a shot against No. 1 UVA last Tuesday.

- Ferriol registered seven shots in the loss to Villanova a couple of weeks ago, before taking six over the last three matches. The senior has scored 12 goals this season and registered three assists. The 27 points are a career-high and also has recorded a career-high 12 goals.

ON THE ROAD AGAIN

- In the month of October the Dukes have been inside the friendly confines of Sentara Park just twice. JMU kicked off a four match road trip against Northeastern before heading to Villanova, Delaware and No. 1 Virginia.

- The Dukes played their final home match of October against UNCW this past Saturday and will now hit the road to close out the road schedule this week. JMU will travel to Penn State on Tuesday and head to Charleston on Saturday, looking to secure a spot in the CAA tournament.

THREE TO GO

- The final three matches of the regular season are officially upon us. The Dukes will play two of their remaining three matches on the road, heading to University Park, Pa. to take on Penn State and then heading to sunny Charleston, South Carolina to take on CAA foe Charleston.

- The Dukes will return home to close out the regular season against William & Mary and honor the eight seniors on the team. The remaining three matches will mean a lot for the Dukes, looking to secure a top-two seed in the CAA tournament.

TOURNAMENT STRUCTURE CHANGES

- In 2019 the Colonial Athletic Association changed the way the men's soccer tournament was structured. The CAA adopted the women's soccer format, allowing the top two seeds to get a bye to the semifinals.
- With that the top two seeds will host a neutral site quarterfinal match, before hosting their semifinals match at home. The finals will then be played at the highest remaining seeds' home field the following weekend.

TOURNAMENT IS ON THE HORIZON

- The CAA tournament is just a few weeks away and the Dukes are sitting in a good spot to be in the tournament. Seeding is not decided yet, but with two CAA matches to play, the Dukes are sitting in second place. The 13 points are good enough to get JMU into the post season, but JMU is looking for that first round bye.
- The Dukes will need at least a point in their last two CAA matches to clinch a spot in the tournament and claim a top-two seed. JMU will look to close out CAA play with a match on the road at Charleston and at home against William & Mary on senior night.
