OHIO STATE AND PENN STATE CLASH SATURDAY AT NOON IN 'THE SHOE'

One of the Big Ten's traditional marquee matchups takes place Saturday at Ohio Stadium as Ohio State and Penn State meet in a late-season showdown that will significantly shape the Big Ten East Division title race.

Two of the nation's top defenses will be on display. The Buckeyes lead the nation in total defense (216.4 yards/game), passing defense (126.0 yards/game) and scoring defense (9.8 points/game) while Penn State is No. 4 in rushing defense (75.9 yards/game) and No. 17 in total defense (316.2 yards/game).

Saturday is the 35th all-time meeting between Ohio State and Penn State with the Buckeyes holding a 19-14 edge in the series. The Buckeyes have won six of nine games when both teams are ranked in the top 10, including each of the last two meetings.

42

J.K. Dobbins is fourth nationally in rushing yards (1,289) and fifth in yards/game (128.9) despite only 42 second-half carries and four zero-carry second halves. He is also second in yards/carry (7.0).

5

The last three games between Ohio State and Penn State have been decided by a total of five points: a three-point PSU win in 2016 followed by one-point wins by Ohio State in 2017 and 2018.

25

This week, Ohio State will honor five senior managers and 25 seniors who will be making their final appearance at Ohio Stadium. The group includes seven fifth-year seniors.

8

Ohio State extended its school-record streak of 10-win seasons to eight consecutive years following last week's victory at Rutgers. The Buckeyes have 15 10-win seasons in the last 18 years.

The 2019 football season will be the 98th season that Ohio State will play its home games in one of the most iconic, venerable and great stadiums in college football: Ohio Stadium. Ground was broken for its construction on Aug. 3, 1921 and 14 months, and just over $1.5 million in construction costs later, Ohio Stadium was completed. More than $1 million of that cost was pledged by proud and dedicated Ohio State football fans.

Ohio State boasts the second highest winning percentage at Ohio Stadium nationally among schools that have played 500-or-more games in their current stadium. Ohio State has a 449-112-20 all-time record in Ohio Stadium for a winning percentage of .790.

Sometime around 6:30 p.m. Pacific Standard Time on January 1, 2019, Ryan Day had a whistle placed around his neck by retiring head coach Urban Meyer in front of the team after its 28-23 Rose Bowl Game victory over Washington. The head coaching tenure of Day at The Ohio State University had officially begun.

Technically, Day's first day on the job was Jan. 2, but that moment in the locker room at the Rose Bowl in front of 124 players, including more than 100 who are a part of his first team, will have the lasting impact of origination for the 40-year-old from Manchester, N.H., who becomes just the 25th coach for a storied program that ranks second all-time in victories and will play its 130th season of football in 2019.

"It's an amazing feeling," Day said later on in the locker room. "To be the leader of such a special place, a special group of men, this program, Buckeye Nation ... it is an honor!"

Day officially started his head coaching career with a record of 3-0. He is credited with the wins earned over Oregon State, Rutgers and 15th-ranked TCU at the beginning of the 2018 season when he served about eight weeks in August and September as Ohio State's acting head coach. He has a five-year contract through the 2023 season that will pay him $4.5 million annually.

A quarterbacks coach for the San Francisco 49ers in 2016 under Chip Kelly and in 2015 for the Philadelphia Eagles under Kelly, Day is in his third season overall at Ohio State and his 18th season as a coach in the NFL or collegiate ranks. He was Ohio State's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach the past two seasons.

90 TD PASSES IN 2017 & 2018

The impact he has had on the program in such a short time has been considerable.

No school has had more passing touchdowns the past two seasons than the 90 that Ohio State's quarterbacks have thrown in that time. Ohio State also ranks seventh nationally over the past two seasons in passing yards per game and third in completion percentage.

Ohio State, in Day's two seasons, has won six championships: back-to-back Big Ten championships; two Big Ten East Division titles; the 2018 Cotton Bowl and this year's Rose Bowl.

In 2018 Ohio State ranked second nationally in total offense and passing yards, and No. 8 in scoring. It established Big Ten Conference records for offensive yards per game (535.6), passing yards (5,100), passing yards per game (373.0), touchdown passes (51), completions (396) and total plays (1,131).

HEISMAN FINALIST DWAYNE HASKINS

Individually, quarterback Dwayne Haskins was a Heisman Trophy finalist who became just the sixth player to throw 50 touchdown passes in a season. He was named the Chicago Tribune Silver Football award winner as the Big Ten's best player and he was also named the Big Ten's offensive player of the year and its quarterback of the year.

The impact he has had on the program has been considerable. With Day as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach the past two seasons, no school has had more passing touchdowns than the 90 that Ohio State's quarterbacks have thrown in that time. In Day's two seasons, Ohio State has won six championships: back-to-back Big Ten championships; two Big Ten East Division titles; the 2018 Cotton Bowl and this year's Rose Bowl.

The 2017 season was Day's first in Columbus and it also proved to be a success. His starting quarterback, J.T. Barrett, was a finalist for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback of the Year Award and he was named the Big Ten's quarterback of the year after a season in which he set seven school single season records and broke the Big Ten Conference career mark for touchdowns responsible for with 147.

Additionally, Ohio State's offense was fifth nationally in passing efficiency in 2017, sixth in scoring and eighth in total offense, plus it led the Big Ten in rushing, passing efficiency, scoring and total offense.

DEC. 4, 2018

On the same day that legendary coach Urban Meyer announced his retirement – Dec. 4, 2018 – Day was named to succeed him.

"I am truly honored to be here today and am so appreciative to President Drake and Gene Smith for the faith they have in me to lead this team," Day said at a packed press conference at the Fawcett Center on Ohio State's campus. "I love this program and its student-athletes and I want Buckeye Nation to know how hard we are going to work to ensure this program remains the very best in the country.

"I also want to say 'thank you' to coach Meyer. His coaching wisdom and his elite ability to motivate and prepare a team is something everyone on this staff not only appreciates, but learns from and carries forward. I am grateful for the two seasons I've had as a part of his staff."

In addition to his two NFL seasons as a quarterbacks coach, Day has 15 years of collegiate coaching experience, including offensive coordinator positions at Temple and Boston College, as well as positions with Florida – as a graduate assistant under Meyer – and at his alma mater, New Hampshire.
