Q: Cam, how are you adjusting to not playing with the ball as much in your hands here, and how do you feel tonight kind of validates some of that when you're making some of those plays, maybe, off of attacking close outs rather than just taking shots?

A: I would say it's been a little more of an adjustment than I thought it would be, but I've had fun through it all. I think tonight just compliments the work I've been putting in, just the extra time in the gym, extra time with the coaches, and knowing that I'm going to play off the ball a little bit more.

Q: Could you talk about how when you had five guards out there on the floor, how much fun is that for you guys?

A: I think that's just one of the lineups we enjoy as a group. When we see five guards out there everyone can shoot, pass, dribble, and our eyes just light up and we know that when we get on offense it's our time to go. It doesn't matter who it is, whoever gets the open shot is going to step up and knock it down and we just have that trust and have confidence in each other.

Q: Cam, tonight you joined the 1,500 point, 500 rebound, 500 assist club, how does it feel to join that club with Jalen and other teammates?

A: I guess it feels cool, just knowing that there's only three of us and two of us are in the same locker room. It kind of just goes to show the versatility that we both have as point guards and just being able to do other things.
