A Look Back on a Championship

Stanford won its ninth NCAA title in 2019

It may have not been the path the preseason No. 1 Cardinal thought it would take, but it ended exactly where it wanted – with the program’s ninth NCAA title. Stanford was 30-4 overall, won its third straight Pac-12 championship and repeated as national champions for the first time since 1996-97. The team featured six All-Americans, including Honda Award winner Jenna Gray and VolleyballMag.com Player of the Year Kathryn Plummer.

Stanford advanced to its 23rd national semifinal with a sweep over Penn State in the regional final at Maples Pavilion. The Cardinal continued its dominance over the Big Ten, sweeping Minnesota and Wisconsin in the final four in Pittsburgh. Stanford’s senior class became the second in program history to win three national titles in four seasons. This year’s class finished with a career record of 121-16, including a 22-1 mark in the NCAA Tournament.

Kevin Hambly became the seventh head coach in Division I women’s volleyball to lead a school to back-to-back titles. Hambly is now 94-9 (.913) in three seasons on The Farm, mentoring eight AVCA All-Americans to 16 awards and three Academic All-Americans.
