2023 NOTABLES

- No. 1 Stanford (24-1, 5-1 MPSF) defeated USC 11-9 to secure its ninth NCAA title in school history and repeat for the first time since 2014-15. Appearing in its 12th NCAA final in 13 seasons, Stanford avenged its only loss and closed out another stellar campaign which included a second straight MPSF crown and its best start to a season (16-0) since 2011. The nation's only program to have participated at every NCAA Championship since the event's inception in 2001, Stanford's 16-game winning streak to open the season was its longest overall since 2014.
- Stanford received multi-goal performances from four players and made several defensive stops down the stretch, defeating USC 11-9 in the NCAA final. Ryann Neushul and Jewel Roemer both contributed two goals and two assists, pacing a balanced offensive attack featuring seven different goal scorers. Maya Avital was sensational in goal, denying a penalty shot and making 11 saves, representing the seventh time this season she finished with at least 10 saves. The Cardinal raced out to a 4-1 lead, highlighted by a pair of goals from Celeste Wijnbelt, who entered the game having scored eight all season. USC forced a 4-4 tie at halftime before Stanford surged ahead 8-5 entering the fourth quarter. Leading 10-9, Ella Woodhead's goal with 50 seconds left provided insurance for the Cardinal.
- Stanford and USC have combined to win the last 13 NCAA titles, fueling a rivalry that dominates the sport. However, the Cardinal has won six of the last eight meetings overall, with all of those victories clinching a tournament title (NCAA -2, MPSF -2, Barbara Kalbus Invitational -2). The Trojans have won the last four MPSF regular-season tilts. The Cardinal repeated as MPSF champions for the second time in school history (2000-01) and captured its seventh conference title overall, having also won the crown in 2014, 2006 and 2003.
- Aria Fischer was named Stanford's seventh recipient of the Peter J. Cutino Award, presented to the nation's most outstanding collegiate player. The ACWPC Player of the Year, Fischer is a three-time NCAA champion who also closed out her career as a four-time ACWPC All-American, qualifying for the first team three times (2019, 2022-23) and the second team in 2018. Selected as the Most Valuable Player of both the NCAA Tournament and MPSF Tournament, Fischer is a four-time All-MPSF selection and led the Cardinal in goals (71), assists (45), points (116) and shots (142). On March 26 in a win against Arizona State, Fischer became the seventh player in school history to reach the 200-goal mark and closed out her time on The Farm ranking fifth all-time with 226 overall.
- The Cardinal averaged 16.2 goals per game (405 total) and received at least one goal from all 22 available players. Stanford's defense was stingy, with Maya Avital serving as the anchor in goal, making 189 saves and totaling at least 10 stops in seven contests.
- Stanford boasted seven All-MPSF awards selections, matching its highest total since 2014. Highlighting the selections was Jenna Flynn being named MPSF Newcomer of the Year, becoming the Cardinal's conference-record ninth honoree. Flynn is one of four freshmen in school history to score at least 60 goals in her first season, joining Brenda Villa (69 in 2001), Suze Gardner (63 in 1997) and Maggie Steffens (60 in 2013). Aria Fischer and Ryann Neushul booked spots on the first team, Maya Avital and Flynn were named to the second team and Jewel Roemer was tabbed honorable mention. Flynn, Maggie Hawkins and Ella Woodhead were All-Freshman team picks.
- Through 26 seasons, head coach John Tanner has compiled a 622-89 (.874) overall record while directing the Cardinal to 22 all-time NCAA appearances, nine NCAA titles (2023, 2022, 2019, 2017, 2015, 2014, 2012, 2011, 2002) and nine national runner-ups. Named ACWPC Coach of the Year for the eighth time, Tanner picked up his 600th career victory in Stanford's 25-8 win over Fresno State on Jan. 28.
