KNIGHT NOTES

SO...WE MEET AGAIN

- UCF and SMU may be one of the newest, yet most highly anticipated rivalries in college soccer. The two teams have met seven times over the past three seasons.
- The Mustangs have topped the Knights in three straight AAC Championship matchups, each decided by a goal or less. Each side has been consistently in the top-25 the past few seasons.
- UCF met the Mustangs three times last year, meeting in the regular season, in the AAC Championship and in the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

THE FIRST 15'

- The first 15 minutes over the past two seasons for the Knights have been critical in deciding matches.
- This season, UCF is 2-0-0 when holding the opponent scoreless over that time frame and 0-3-0 when allowing a goal in the first 15'
- Last season (2019), the Black and Gold were 7-0-1 when scoring inside the 15 minute mark.
- Although UCF hasn't scored in the first 15 minutes this season like they did so often in their previous campaign, the Knights are 2-0-0 this year when scoring the first goal of the match.

JUST KEEP SHOOTING

- The Knights tallied two goals last time out, bringing them to five on the season.
- Despite being tied for 99th in scoring offense this season, UCF is among the tops of the conference and in the nation in creating offensive chances.
- The Black and Gold are #23 in the the nation (2nd in conference) in shots on goal per game with a 6.60 mark and #40 (2nd in conference) in shots per game with a 12.80 clip. UCF is #12 in the country in corner kicks per game, averaging 7.60 a match.
- The Knights put up similar numbers last season. Right now, UCF is averaging less than one fewer corners per match than they did when they led the nation in 2019 with an 8.3 mark. The Black and Gold ranked at 22nd in SOG per match (6.60) in 2019 and 8th in shot attempts per match with 16.5.

HOW THE TABLE HAS TURNED

- The American Athletic Conference table is wide open after the results of last week. SMU and Temple, the top two teams, lost their matches and surrendered their perfect starts.
- Despite the slow 1-3 start from UCF, they still have a chance to get into a tie of the top spot with a win this week.
- The top 4 teams make the postseason conference tournament.

BEST OF LUCK, LOUIS

- It was announced that Louis Perez had signed a contract with Pittsburgh Riverhounds SC of the USL Championship on Wednesday, making Perez ineligible to compete at UCF.
- Perez earned tons of awards while he was a Knight, including a nod as an All-American in 2018.
- He joins an incredibly talented list of active #BuiltByUCF alumni currently playing professional soccer here in the states. Active alum listed on page 2.

ADDITIONAL KNIGHT NOTES

FILLING THE VOID

- With Louis Perez leaving the team for the pros, four starters missing from UCF's 2019 roster, with one of those players being Cal Jennings, who was tied for the nation's lead in goals scored. The Knights' striker piled up 18 goals and 4 assists on his way to an impressive senior campaign. The two remaining spots to be filled are on the back line, one of them being the former captain Johnny Dean's spot.
- The four missing spots account for 66 of UCF's 137 total points in 2019.

THE UNBEATEN RUN

- The Knights are unbeaten in 42 of their last 53 matches, a solid run dating back to Oct. 4, 2017.
- UCF had gone unbeaten in 16 consecutive matches before their loss to SMU in the conference tournament in 2019. It was their longest such streak in program history.
- The 16-match unbeaten streak topped the previous best of 10 matches, achieved in '80, '82 and '18.

PROTECTING THE KINGDOM

- Since head coach Scott Calabrese took over at the beginning of the 2017 season, the Knights have posted a record of 23-5-5 at home.
- One of those losses was the 2018 NCAA second round match in which UCF were hosts. Another was in The American championship match in 2019 (officially goes down as a tie in 2018 finals)
- UCF's 2020-21 home losses are two of just three regular season home losses in Calabrese's tenure, the other being a 1-0 loss to UC Irvine in overtime on August 27, 2018.

PRESEASON HONORS

- The Knights had the most players on the Preseason All-Conference Team, with 5 players unanimously named to the squad. They are Yoni Sorokin, Yanis Leerman, Yannik Oettl, Louis Perez and Gino Vivi.
- Oettl was unanimously named the conference's Preseason Goalkeeper of the Year. He will be attempting to collect his third straight version of the award at the season's end.
- Sorokin and Leerman were named to the MAC Hermann Trophy Watch List, college soccer's most prestigious award. The pair became the 4th and 5th players in program history to make the watch list. The other three to do it were Jennings and Perez (2019) and Warren Creavalle (2011), who just finished his 9th season in the MLS. The only player to get close to winning the award from UCF is Jennings, who was a semifinalist in 2018 and 2019.
- Leerman, Sorokin and Perez were named to TopDrawer Soccer's Preseason Top-100 collegiate players list, checking in at 10, 27 and 66 respectively. Leerman was named to their preseason Best XI First Team while Sorokin was named to the Third Team.

HOW SWEET IT WAS

- The Knights punched their first ticket to the Sweet 16 in program history after defeating Missouri State in the second round of the NCAA Tournament 2-1 in OT. UCF fell 2-1 in OT to SMU in the Sweet 16
- Although UCF's run ended in the Sweet 16, it was arguably the most successful season in program history, matching a win total that was achieved only once before, which was in the team's second year of existence.

BACK TO THE BIG DANCE?

- The Knights earned the #9 national seed, the highest in program history, for the 2019 NCAA Tourney.
- The nod was UCF's second to the NCAA Tournament in as many seasons, which made it the first time since 2010-2011 they've made the big dance in back-to-back seasons.
- Overall, that was the seventh time UCF had been to the NCAA Tournament. They'll be going for three straight for the first time since 2002-2004.
- The NCAA Tournament field has been cut from 48 to 36 for the 2021 season.
