HOKIES SET FOR BUSY WEEKEND

- After two tough duals at Missouri and Northwestern and the Cliff Keen Invitational in Las Vegas, No. 14 Virginia Tech wrestle in Cassell Coliseum for the first time on Friday, Dec. 7, against Princeton starting at 7 p.m.
- Princeton, who's receiving votes in the latest NWCA Coaches Poll, is 1-2 this season and is coming off of a 21-19 victory at Lehigh on Nov. 30.
- For the third time in as many duals this season, the Hokies will face a team that is at least receiving votes in the NWCA Coaches Poll.
- The Hokies have lost consecutive duals for the first time since 2011-12 and look to avoid their first three-match losing streak since 2007-08.

SHORT TIME – PRINCETON

- Princeton enters Friday's match with three wrestlers slotted in the national rankings – No. 14 Patrick Glory at 125 pounds, No. 1 Matthew Kolodzik at 149 and No. 5 Patrick Brucki at 197.
- Kolodzik, the lone returning All-American for the Tigers, placed third at the NCAA Championships last season at 149 pounds.
- Friday will be a homecoming for Christiansburg native Marshall Keller, who wrestles at 141 pounds for Princeton and is expected to start.
- It will also be a homecoming for Princeton assistant coach Sean Gray, who was a two-time All-American for Virginia Tech in 2000 and 2001.
- He still holds two program records with 133 career wins and 45 pins and was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2015.
- Princeton's 157-pounder, Quincy Monday, is the son of Olympic and World Champion Kenny Monday and the brother of North Carolina's Kennedy Monday, a 2018 NCAA qualifier.

SHORT TIME – VIRGINIA TECH

- The Hokies have six wrestlers ranked by InterMat this week – No. 16 Korbin Myers (133), No. 8 Mekhi Lewis (165), No. 5 David McFadden (174), No. 8 Zack Zavatsky (184), No. 17 Tom Sleigh (197) and No. 7 Billy Miller (285).

- The biggest mover was Lewis who jumped from 14th to the top 10 at No. 8 after beating three ranked opponents at the Cliff Keen Invite.
- Assistant coach Jared Frayer will once again face Princeton, a program he's had a history with dating back to his day as an assistant at Harvard from 2003-06.
- Princeton's Marshall Keller was high school teammates with Tech's Hunter Bolen at Christiansburg High School.
- Christiansburg has produced some of the best wrestlers in Virginia Tech history including three-time All-American and national finalist Devin Carter, two-time All-American Joey Dance and three-time All-American Zach Epperly.

D-MAC AND MILLER ARE BACK

- For the first time this season, redshirt junior David McFadden and redshirt senior Billy Miller have both been listed as probable starters at 174 and heavyweight, respectively, against Princeton.
- The duo are key pieces that they Hokies sorely missed in dual meet losses to Missouri and Northwestern.
- McFadden has been out with a day-to-day injury while Miller has been working to come back from offseason surgery.
- McFadden is a two-time All-American who will bump up to 174 pounds this season and Miller, a transfer from Edinboro, is a three-time NCAA qualifier and a two-time EWL champion.

LEWIS WINS CO-ACC WRESTLER OF THE WEEK

- Redshirt freshman Mekhi Lewis was named Co-ACC Wrestler of the Week on Tuesday after going 4-1 and placing second at the Cliff Keen Invitational in Las Vegas this past weekend.
- Lewis defeated three ranked opponents, including two top 10 wrestlers, en route to his appearance in the finals.

In his first season leading the program, head coach Tony Robie continued Virginia Tech wrestling's run of success as the Hokies won its second consecutive ACC Championship and placed eighth at the NCAA Championships.

Robie became the first ACC wrestling coach in history to guide his team to ACC championships in his first two seasons. With Robie on staff, Virginia Tech has now won four ACC titles over the last six years and seven conference trophies overall when including dual meet titles. The Hokies have also placed in the top 10 at NCAAs in each of the last six years.

In Robie's first full campaign, Virginia Tech placed at least three wrestlers on the podium at nationals for the sixth consecutive season. Jared Haught led the group of three All-Americans in 2018 by becoming the Hokies' second-ever national finalist, joining Devin Carter in 2014. Four Hokies – Haught, David McFadden, Brent Moore and Dennis Gustafson – won ACC titles, with Moore taking home Most Valuable Wrestler honors. Robie also coached McFadden to a regular season record of 30-0, the first undefeated season at Virginia Tech since 2001-02.

In duals, Robie led the Hokies to a 14-3 overall record, a 4-1 mark in ACC matches and a final ranking of No. 10 in the final NWCA Coaches Poll. Robie's 14 dual meet victories ranks second in the ACC record book for most wins by a first-year head coach behind Wade Schalles' 15 wins with Clemson in 1978. His .824 winning percentage ranks third all-time in ACC history for a rookie head coach. In Virginia Tech history, Robie's winning percentage ranks first among rookie head coaches while his 14 wins ranks second behind Tom Brands' 16 dual meet wins in 2004-05. Robie, who started five freshmen in duals for a majority of the season, was also named a finalist for the Therawork NWCA National Coach of the Year award.

On March 21, 2017, Robie was promoted to head wrestling coach at Virginia Tech after serving as interim head coach since February of that year. During that span, Robie led the Hokies to the team title at the ACC Championships and a sixth-place finish at the 2017 NCAA Championships in St. Louis – Tech's fifth-straight top-10 finish at nationals.

Robie was an integral part of the Virginia Tech wrestling staff for 11 seasons as associate head coach under former head coach Kevin Dresser. Between that 2006-07 and 2016-17, the Hokies won three ACC Dual Meet Championships, three ACC tournament championships and finished in the top 10 at the NCAA Championships five times. One of those top 10 team finishes included a then-ACC record and program best fourth place finish in 2016. He also helped recruit and coach 17 ACC champions and 14 All-Americans.

Robie came to Blacksburg after serving as the head coach at Binghamton University, a program that had been discontinued after the 2003-04 school year because of budget constraints. Before taking over at Binghamton, he was an assistant coach for four seasons at the University of Michigan.

In seven years as a Division I assistant coach, Robie helped coach 23 All-Americans, nine Academic All-Americans and one national champion. As the Wolverines' top assistant coach, Robie recruited three top-10 classes, including the No. 2 ranked class in 2004. His one-on-one work with Michigan student-athlete Ryan Bertin culminated with Bertin's 2003 NCAA championship – the school's first national champion in 18 years. In all, Michigan's team earned national top-10 status all four years that Robie was a coach there. His dedication and influence off the mat resulted in the wrestling team winning the 2003 community service award at the school.

Robie joined the Michigan staff after coaching stops at West Virginia (1998-99) and Edinboro (1999-00).

A native of Erie, Pa., Robie was a Dean's List student at Edinboro and received the school's Academic Achievement Award before graduating with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice in 1997. Robie and his wife, Jennifer, reside in Christiansburg with their three children – Nate, Luke and Jake.
