HOKIES HEAD TO NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

- Coming off of winning its second consecutive ACC Championship in Chapel Hill, N.C., two weeks ago, the Virginia Tech wrestling team travels to Cleveland this week for the 2018 NCAA Championships at Quicken Loans Arena.
- The Hokies are in search of its sixth straight top 10 finish at the NCAA Championships, a streak that began with a 10th place finish in 2013 in Des Moines.
- This will be Tech's second tournament under the direction of head coach Tony Robie but the first as full-time head coach.
- As interim head coach last season, Robie guided the Hokies to sixth place finish in St. Louis.
- Virginia Tech's four freshman are the most in program history.
- This year marks the third time in program history that the Hokies have had two or more seeds slotted at No. 3 or higher.

TECH TIDBITS AT NCAAs

- The Hokies have had at least one wrestler reach All-American status at the last six NCAA Championships, the 11th-longest active streak in the nation.
- Redshirt junior Zack Zavatsky's 18 bonus point wins are the fourth-most in the 184-pound field.
- The Hokies' nine qualifiers are tied for the most at the tournament with Iowa, Missouri, NC State, Oklahoma State and Penn State. Lehigh and Ohio State both brought 10 qualifiers to Cleveland.
- Redshirt sophomore David McFadden is one of 10 wrestlers to enter the tournament with an undefeated record.

- Freshman Hunter Bolen is one of only 16 true freshmen to qualify for nationals.
- Virginia Tech is one of only six schools with five or more first time qualifiers.

HOKIES BRING 9 TO THE LAND

- Virginia Tech's nine NCAA qualifiers are its most since it also qualified nine wrestlers in 2013-14. The program record is 10 qualifiers set in 2012-13.
- Redshirt senior Jared Haught, the third seed at 197 pounds, is only the 14th Virginia Tech wrestler to qualify for nationals four times.
- Tech has had No. 2 seeds in back-to-back seasons as redshirt sophomore David McFadden, seeded second at 165, follows Joey Dance, the No. 2 seed at 125 last season.
- Redshirt freshman Kyle Norstrem earned an at-large at 125 pounds after battling through a season that saw him face 14 opponents in this year's field at nationals.
- Fellow freshmen Brent Moore (141), Hunter Bolen (174) and Andrew Dunn (285) join Norstrem as Hokies that qualified for NCAAs in their rookie season.
- Redshirt junior Zack Zavatsky, the No. 6 seed at 184, makes his third trip to NCAAs in as many seasons with the Hokies while redshirt senior Dennis Gustafson, the No. 9 seed at 133, returns to nationals for the first time since his true freshman season in 2013-14.
- Redshirt junior Ryan Blees punched his ticket to NCAAs for the first time and earned a national seed after cutting down to 149 pounds after following winter break and going 16-3 down the stretch.

- His total wins ranks second and his winning percentage (.824) ranked third in ACC history for a head coach in his debut season.
- Robie's .824 winning percentage is the highest for a rookie head coach in Virginia Tech's history, surpassing Tom Brands' .800 first season winning percentage in 2004-05.
- Robie's 14 victories ranks second in program history behind Brands' 16 wins in the 2004-05.
- At the ACC Championship, Robie coached seven finalists and four Hokies to individual titles.
- He was recently named as one of eight semifinalists for the Theraworx NWCA National Coach of the Year award.

McFADDEN STILL UNDEFEATED

- After winning both of his matches by major decision en route to the ACC title at 165 pounds, redshirt sophomore David McFadden comes to Cleveland with a perfect 31-0 record.

- McFadden returns to the NCAA Championships after a redshirt season where he recovered from offseason surgery on his knee.
- He burst onto the scene as the No. 14 seed as a true freshman at NAAs in 2016 where he placed sixth, despite tearing his ACL during the tournament.

COACHING STAFF BRINGS NCAA FINALS PEDIGREE

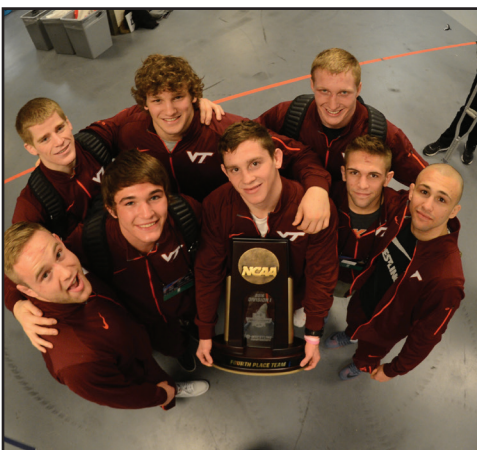

- Virginia Tech legend Devin Carter is still the only Hokie to reach the national finals, a feat he accomplished at 141 pounds in 2014.
- This season, with multiple potential finalists in the lineup, the Hokies will have experience in their corner as four Tech coaches have appeared in the NCAA finals.
- Head coach Tony Robie was the third seed when he finished second at NAAs in 1997, assistant coach Jared Frayer was a national finalist at Oklahoma in 2002 at 149 and director of performance Tyler Graff reached the finals in 2014 at 133 for Wisconsin.
- Assistant coach Frank Molinaro was a two-time finalist at Penn State and was the national champion at 149 pounds in 2012.

Director of Athletics Whit Babcock announced Tuesday, March 21 that Tony Robie has been promoted to head wrestling coach at Virginia Tech after serving as interim head coach since February. Robie led the Hokies to the team title at the ACC Championship and a sixth-place finish at the 2017 NCAA Championships in St. Louis – Tech's fifth-straight top-10 finish at nationals.

Robie has been an integral member of the Virginia Tech wrestling staff for 11 seasons, serving as associate head coach since joining the Hokies in 2006 before assuming interim head coach duties for the ACC and NCAA Championships this season. A former head coach at Binghamton University, Robie was a two-time All-America selection and an NCAA runner-up as a student-athlete at Edinboro University. His resume also includes assistant coaching tenures at Michigan, West Virginia and his alma mater.

Serving as the top assistant under former head coach Kevin Dresser, Robie helped elevate the profile of the Virginia Tech wrestling program since arriving in Blacksburg in 2006-07 as associate head coach. Since that first season, the Hokies have gone on to win three ACC Dual Meet Championships, three ACC tournament championships and finished in the top 10 at the NCAA Championships five times. He's also helped recruit and coach 17 ACC champions and 14 All-Americans.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to lead the wrestling program at Virginia Tech," Robie said. "I have a tremendous appreciation for the high expectations at Virginia Tech and embrace that challenge. So many student-athletes and other individuals have contributed to the ascent of this program, and we welcome the opportunity to continue having Virginia Tech wrestling compete at the highest level and hopefully achieve our ultimate goal."

Robie came to Blacksburg after serving as the head coach at Binghamton University in New York. Robie took over a program that had been discontinued after the 2003-04 school year because of budget constraints. Before taking over at Binghamton, he was an assistant coach for four seasons at the University of Michigan.

In seven years as a Division I assistant coach prior to coming to Blacksburg, Robie helped coach 23 All-Americans, nine Academic All-Americans and one national champion. As the Wolverines' top assistant coach, Robie recruited three top-10 classes, including the No. 2-ranked class in 2004. His one-on-one work with Michigan student-athlete Ryan Bertin culminated with Bertin's 2003 NCAA championship – the school's first national champion in 18 years. In all, Michigan's team earned national top-10 status all four years that Robie was a coach there. His dedication and influence off the mat resulted in the wrestling team winning the 2003 community service award at the school.

A world-class wrestler in his own right, Robie racked up a 126-23 record on the collegiate mat and was a two-time All-American. A two-time captain for former Olympic gold medalist Bruce Baumgartner at Edinboro University, Robie was a three-time Eastern Wrestling League champion and a three-time Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) champion. As a senior, Robie led the Fighting Scots to a sixth-place national finish – the highest in school history and was the national runner-up. In 2008, he was inducted into the Edinboro Sports Hall of Fame.

The Erie, Pennsylvania native was a Dean's List student at Edinboro and received the school's Academic Achievement Award before graduating with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice in 1997. Robie brings strong ties to the eastern wrestling hotbed, as he also served as an assistant coach at West Virginia (1998-99) and Edinboro (1999-00). Robie and his wife, Jennifer, reside in Christiansburg with their three children – Nate, Luke and Jake.
