THE STARTING LINE

- Virginia Tech track and field enters the NCAA Indoor Championships with eight total student-athletes in the pole vault and distance events individually, while also having a DMR on both sides.
- The Hokies have four pole vaulters combined on the men's and women's side, the most of any school at the meet, and four distance runners combined on each side.
- Nine school records have been reset this winter for Tech: Both 4x400-meter relays, women's DMR, triple jump, long jump, pole vault, 1,000, mile (all women) and the men's 200.
- Rachel Pocratsky's 1,000-meter time (2:41.98) ranks No. 1 in the country and was the sixth-fastest time in NCAA history, while Lisa Gunnarsson's vault (4.46m) is No. 5 in the land.
- The Hokies will have three redshirt seniors run in the mile, including Vincent Ciattei, Neil Gourley and Patrick Joseph. Of the three, Gourley and Joseph do not have outdoor eligibility, meaning this will be their last meet wearing the maroon and orange.

LAST TIME OUT

- Eight event titles highlighted Virginia Tech track and field at the ACC Indoor Championships on Feb. 22-24 inside the Clemson Indoor Track and Field Complex.
- The DMR groups took first place, as the men, made up of Neil Gourley, Brandon Thomas, Daniel Jaskowak and Thierry Siewe Yanga posted a time of a 9:38.31, while the women, consisting of Rachel Pocratsky, Arlicia Bush, Shannon Quinn and Sarah Edwards, clocked a time of 10:57.60.
- Pole vault was well represented on the podium, as Deakin Volz, Torben Laidig and Joel Leon Benitez went 1-2-3, while Lisa Gunnarsson and Rachel Baxter went 1-2.
- Gourley and Pocratsky won the 800 meters and Vincent Ciattei took gold in the mile for the second consecutive indoor season at ACCs.

WHO TO WATCH

DID YOU KNOW?

- Virginia Tech has the highest-ranked team on the women's side and second highest on the men's side from the ACC in the rankings.
- Tech is one of 12 teams to have its units both ranked, meaning almost half of the Top 25 is balanced with both its men/women.
- The women have made quite the climb this season in the rankings, as they started 2018 in the USTFCCCA Preseason Poll ranked No. 87 and have moved up 75 spots with now being ranked No. 12.
- The men began the season ranked No. 8 in the preseason poll and have moved up and down in the past few weeks, but sit four spots lower than what they started the season.

RACKING IT UP

- Due to the Hokies' indoor track being renovated, Rector Field House, they had to hit the road for all of their meets during the indoor season.
- During opening weekend when they began the season at Penn State, it marked the first time since 2014 the Hokies started the indoor season away from home.
- Splitting up for numerous meets throughout the year, Tech has racked up more than 8,842 miles.

PRESEASON ALL-AMERICANS

- Three pole vaulters were tabbed FloTrack Preseason All-Americans in January: Rachel Baxter, Lisa Gunnarsson and Torben Laidig.
- Baxter and Gunnarsson at the time hadn't even competed at the collegiate level yet, but since their arrival to Blacksburg, the duo has lived up to the hype.
- Both of their marks currently sit in the top 16 nationwide, earning them their first chance of qualifying for the NCAAs.
- Laidig, who has battled through an injury during the season, is back to full health and owns a top 16 mark in the country.
- Distance runners Neil Gourley and Patrick Joseph also earned preseason All-America honors. The pair owns times in the mile that rank in the top 16 nationally.

2017 INDOOR NCAAs

- Tech's best finish last year individually at NCAAs in College Station was Hanna Green and Drew Piazza's second-place finishes in the 800 meters. The two graduated last May.
- The men's DMR took silver as well, clocking a time of 9:33.35. The relay was made up of Daniel Jaskowak, Vincent Ciattei, Greg Chiles and Kevin Cianfarini. Tech returns three of the four to College Station with Cianfarini gone.
- Neil Gourley placed fourth in the mile with a time of 4:06.26, Torben Laidig placed sixth in the pole vault with mark of 5.45 meters (17 ft., 10.5 in.) and Deakin Volz finished 10th, vaulting a height of 5.45 meters (17 ft., 10.5 in.).
- The men turned in a seventh-place finish as a team with 23.5 points, their highest in school history.
- The women placed 27th with all of the eight points coming from Green's 800 silver finish.

FRESHMEN SHINING

- Of the Hokies' 25 freshmen, five on the women's side have started their rookie campaigns with a bang.
- In the sprints, Caitlan Tate (7.38) and Kennedy Dennis (7.40) both sit in the record books for having the fifth- and sixth-fastest times in school history in the 60-meter dash.
- In the jumps, Stefanie Aeschlimann has the second-best mark in program history, owning a triple jump of 12.62 meters (41 ft., 5 in.).
- In the pole vault, Lisa Gunnarsson already owns the school record, while Rachel Baxter has the fourth-best vault (4.30m) in history.
- On the men's side, Joel Leon Benitez has recorded the 11th-best mark in the pole vault, clearing a bar of 5.37 meters (17 ft., 7.25 in.).

ACC PERFORMERS OF THE WEEK

- Three Hokies have earned ACC Performer of the Week this season, starting with Lisa Gunnarsson and Rachel Pocratsky on Jan. 30.
- Gunnarsson broke the school record in the pole vault at Clemson's Bob Pollack Invitational as well as Clemson's facility record, while Pocratsky ran the sixth-fastest 1,000 meters in NCAA history and rewrote the program record, too.
- Pocratsky earned the award again after her performance in the mile at the Music City Challenge in Nashville on Feb. 13.
- The Maryland native posted a new school record with a time of 4:34.01, moving past Shannon Morton's time set in 2016. The time set Vanderbilt Multipurpose Facility's record.

USTFCCCA REGION AWARDS

- The Hokies, being in the Southeast Region, had two award winners in the USTFCCCA regional awards, including Ben Thomas for Men's Assistant Coach of the Year and Neil Gourley for Men's Track Athlete of the Year.
- Thomas has earned the award three of the last four years. The year when he did not in 2016, fellow pole vault coach on Tech's staff Bob Phillips earned the nod.
- The resume of Thomas for the indoor season included two NCAA qualifiers in the 800 and three in the mile, as well as both DMRs, and his athletes scored 62 of the Hokies' 107 points at ACCs on the men's side.
- Thomas, known for being a guru in the distance events, has guided the women in the 800 meters to win the ACC event eight of the last nine years during the indoor and outdoor seasons.
- The Tech alum has also churned out the Southeast Region's Men's Track Athlete of the Year three out of the last four years.
- Gourley earned the award for the first time in his storied career.
- The Scotland native collected the honor in large part due to him clocking the second-fastest 800 in the country at ACCs, crossing the finish line in a personal-best time of 1:47.04.
- Two days before, he ran the anchor of the DMR and led the relay to another indoor title.
