KEY STORYLINES

BATS-BURG

- Virginia Tech continues to boast one of the most electric offenses in the country as the Hokies start the second month of the season positioned near the top of the deck in a number of statistical categories.
- Tech is fresh off hammering 10 home runs during its recent ACC series victory against Pitt, mashing six – a season high – on Saturday while setting the program record for most runs scored during an ACC regular season game (22).
- As a unit, the Hokies have cranked out a tie for the third highest home run count among NCAA Division I programs (41), helping vault Tech's slugging percentage to the second highest mark in the nation (.612).
- The Hokies' ability to bat from positions one through nine has made them a formidable adversary; last weekend, Tech totaled four home runs from the eight and nine spots in its order, including three from true freshman Carson DeMartini.

Defensively, the Hokies are as sound as their offense. Tech possesses the third best fielding percentage in college baseball (.990), leads the ACC in double plays (19) and has combined to yield six outfield assists.

HAMMERIN' HURLEY

- Sophomore outfielder Jack Hurley is off to a monster start to his second collegiate campaign with the Hokies.
- Five weeks into the 2022 season, Hurley leads the nation with his blistering .486 batting average – one hit shy of squaring off a .500 clip.
- The second-year stud from Boalsburg, Pennsylvania, is the owner of a 17-game, season-opening hitting streak, having registered seven doubles, a triple and seven home runs to yield the country's fifth highest slugging percentage (.914).

Since March 6, Hurley has tagged multiple hits during seven of his eight appearances, peaking at five RBIs during Tech's 22-6 rout of Pitt on Saturday.

Tech's left fielder is responsible for four of the Hokies' six outfield assists this season and is also tied with Cade Hunter for the second most stolen bases on the team (five).

SERIES HISTORY

- Virginia Tech has won four straight series meetings against Radford dating back to its 2019 home-and-home sweep of the Highlanders.
- Last February, the Hokies circled the diamond for 22 runs against Radford, scoring 18 runs after the fifth inning to break away from a 4-2 ballgame.
- Tech controls the 49-15 lead in the all-time series and is 28-3 all-time when hosting the Highlanders in Blacksburg.

NOTE: To best accommodate class listings given the NCAA's COVID-19 eligibility rules, Virginia Tech baseball & strategic communications chose to not advance student-athlete class listings following the 2020 season, yet advance listings following the 2021 season. The 'experience' listing is comprehensive of a student-athlete's playing career (disregarding red-shirts) and should be read in tandem with their class listing. Bonus years will be added to the end of student-athletes' careers, as needed and as exercised.

Virginia Tech Director of Athletics Whit Babcock announced the hiring of Tech's 25th head baseball coach on June 9, 2017 and formally introduced John Szeffc as the head coach of the baseball program at a press conference a few days later on June 15. The 2021 season will mark his fourth as the Hokies' head coach.

In his first three seasons, Szeffc (pronounced SHEFF) has coached the Hokies to a pair of seven-game winning streaks - one that opened the 2019 season and the second was in 2020, after the team started 1-3. Also in 2020, the team won 10 games in nonconference action, which included ending the shortened season on a nine-game winning streak, the longest since the team won 18 straight nonconference games in a row back in 2012.

The team also posted an 8-0 home record, the best start at the school since 2012, which helped the Hokies extend their home winning streak in the month of February to 15 straight victories. Added to the final win of 2019, Tech has won nine straight at home, the longest since an 11-game streak from April 28, 2015 through March 4, 2016, and will enter the 2021 season tied for the 12th longest home-win streak in the NCAA.

After the shortened 2020 season, three players earned All-America distinction from Collegiate Baseball Newspaper as it recognized both pitcher Ian Seymour and catcher Carson Taylor as Third Team selections, marking the first time Tech had multiple All-Americans since 2003. Outfielder Gavin Cross was later named to the All-American Freshman Team, just the seventh ever at the school. Also, despite just a five-round MLB Draft in 2020, the draft marked the first time in school history, two Tech players are chosen in the top four rounds as Seymour (2nd) and Taylor (4th) were selected.

Szeffc, who won his 400th career game on March 10, 2018 guiding the Hokies to a 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh, accepted the head coaching position at Tech after leading Maryland to three NCAA appearances and a 180-122 (.596) overall record as the Terrapins' head coach. Before arriving in Blacksburg, Szeffc owned a 392-259-3 (.602) career record in 12 seasons as an NCAA head coach, producing 10 campaigns with 30 or more wins.

In addition to ending a 43-year NCAA tournament drought and becoming the fastest coach to 100 career wins at Maryland, Szeffc spent seven seasons (1996-2002) at the helm of the Marist College baseball program, where he led the team to four conference championships, four NCAA Regional appearances and a 212-137-3 (.607) overall mark. Szeffc earned Northeastern Conference Coach of the Year honors in 1997 and was the American Baseball Coaches

Associate Northeast Region Coach of the Year in 2001.

The first coach in Maryland history to ever take the Terrapins to an NCAA Super Regional, Szeffc accomplished the feat twice in 2014 and 2015 as he guided the program to the first two 40-win seasons in school history and claimed Maryland's first two NCAA Regional crowns. Maryland achieved a final No. 14 ranking both seasons, the highest finishes in school history.

He guided the Terrapins to the ACC Tournament final for the first time in 38 years in 2014 and then took Maryland to the Big Ten tournament final in the school's initial season in that conference, winning a program-best 42 games in 2015.

Szeffc has coached 109 players that have been drafted or signed professional contracts since 1997, including four in 2018 and five in 2019. Over the last eight drafts, 36 of his players have been selected, including the 45th pick of the 2014 draft Jake Stinnett, the highest pick of a Maryland player in almost a decade. Almost a dozen have gone on to play in the Major Leagues, including most recently, Mike Shawaryn (Red Sox) and Lamonte Wade (Twins) in 2019. He has also helped develop 26 All-Americans, including 10 of the 20 players in Maryland history to earn that distinction.

The Middletown, N.Y. native arrived at Maryland after a two-year stint as associate head coach and recruiting coordinator at Kansas State (2011-12) and a two-season stay as assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator at Kansas (2009-10). He also enjoyed a six-season tenure as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Louisiana-Lafayette (2003-08). Szeffc began his coaching career as an assistant at Sacred Heart (1995) and at Drexel (1990-93).

Szeffc managed the New York Generals in the Atlantic College Baseball League during the summers of 1995 and 1996. He led the club to a 47-28 record, earned two consecutive division titles and the ACBL title game in 1996.

Collegiately, he played two years at Connecticut before transferring in 1987 to Drexel. During his senior campaign for the Dragons, he was tabbed an All-East Coast Conference outfielder.

He graduated from Drexel University with a degree in corporate communications in 1989. He also holds a master's degree in sports administration from Temple University.

Szeffc and his wife, Barbara, have a daughter, Anna, and two sons, John Michael and Sam.
