KEY STORYLINES

WHAT'S AT STAKE

- Entering the final week of the regular season, Virginia Tech (11-15 ACC) controls the 10th best record in the ACC, seeking qualification into the 12-team field at the 2023 ACC Baseball Championship.
- The Hokies' easiest path to the conference tournament revolves around their magic number with Louisville, which is down to one. As such, Tech can clinch a tournament berth with any win against Wake Forest, or any defeat by the Cardinals this week against Florida State.
- Virginia Tech's postseason fate is not entirely dependent on Louisville; the 10th-place Hokies lead 11th-place Pitt (10-15 ACC) by a half game and 12th-place NC State (10-16 ACC) by one game with the Wolfpack hosting the Panthers during their final ACC acts. Although Tech does not own the head-to-head tiebreaker against Pitt, the Hokies could potentially own the head-to-head tiebreaker against NC State under the condition that North Carolina or Virginia are the highest placing common opponent at the end of the regular season.

- Through games completed on Tuesday, Virginia Tech ranks No. 53 in the NCAA Division I Baseball RPI and carries its strength of schedule at No. 48 in the country. The Hokies are 8-12 against the RPI top 50 and 18-17 against the RPI top 100 this season while about to add three games against Wake Forest (RPI No. 2).

NOTE: To best accommodate class listings given the NCAA's COVID-19 eligibility rules, Virginia Tech baseball & strategic communications chose to not advance student-athlete class listings following the 2020 season, yet advance listings following the 2021 season. The 'experience' listing is comprehensive of a student-athlete's playing career (disregarding red-shirts) and should be read in tandem with their class listing. Bonus years will be added to the end of student-athletes' careers, as needed and as exercised.

his 12th career team to 30 or more victories (his second such accomplishment at Virginia Tech). The Hokies are also one win shy of achieving back-to-back 30-win seasons for the first time since the 2012 and 2013 campaigns.

TOP-RANKED SUCCESS

- Virginia Tech has won four consecutive games against Wake Forest, including its three-game sweep of the Demon Deacons during April 2021. The programs are tied, 19-19, during 38 shared ACC regular season meetings.

- Tech is 2-1 all-time against opponents ranked No. 1 in D1Baseball's top 25 poll, having taken a three-game series off No. 1 Florida State during March 2017 in Blacksburg. The Hokies also hold a 10-8 all-time record against opponents ranked in D1Baseball's top five, including four series wins to date against No. 3 Virginia (2015), No. 1 Florida State (2017), No. 2 Miami (2022) and No. 5 Virginia (2023).

- Virginia Tech has won 10 of its last 13 regular season series against D1Baseball ranked opponents. Earlier this season in Blacksburg, the Hokies won a three-game set off then-No. 5 Virginia during the Commonwealth Clash presented by Smithfield.

HAMMERIN' HEADLINES

- Statistically, Virginia Tech ranks seventh among NCAA Division I programs in fielding percentage (.982), ninth in scoring (9.0 runs per game), ninth in slugging percentage (.550) and tied for 10th in home runs per game (1.92).

- The "Hammerin' Hokies" have hit multiple homers during six of their last eight games heading into Thursday's series opener at Wake Forest.

- Tech's 92 home runs this season are tied for the 21st most among NCAA Division I programs and rank as the third most among ACC squads behind Wake Forest (100) and Miami (99). Following their 126 home runs hit during the 2022 campaign, the Hokies are seeking to eclipse the century mark in home runs during back-to-back seasons for the first time since 1985 and 1986.

- After missing eight games due to injury, junior outfielder Jack Hurley hit his 16th home run of the season on May 10 at Liberty during his first at-bat back in Virginia Tech's lineup. Hurley - who had his 22-game hitting streak snapped on May 14 against Clemson - ranks sixth among ACC batters in home runs and leads the league in conference-only slugging percentage (.775).

- Sophomore second baseman Christian Martin carries an active 33-game reached base streak into Thursday's series opener. Martin has reached base safely during all but two of his 41 appearances this season.

SZEFC vs. THE ACC

- Including his head coaching tenure at Maryland, John Szeffc had won weekend series against all but three current ACC opponents - two of which he added this season:

Opponent	Date	Results
Georgia Tech	April 14-16	W-W-W
Florida State	April 21-23	W-W-L
Clemson	May 12-14	L-L-L

- Szeffc's pursuit includes Tech's one-game series win at Notre Dame in March 2022 (remainder of series canceled due to weather).

BUILT TOUGH

- Virginia Tech has won 10 of its last 13 regular season series against D1Baseball ranked opponents, including seven victories against top-15 competition.

- The Hokies' streak of prevailing during seven straight series against opponents ranked in D1Baseball's top 25 poll ended with their three-game defeat to No. 16 Clemson (May 12-14).

- Earlier this season in Blacksburg, the Hokies won a three-game set off then-No. 5 Virginia during the Commonwealth Clash presented by Smithfield.

TECH EXTINGUISHES FLAMES

- Virginia Tech jumped on Liberty, 13-0, through two and a half innings of play during Wednesday's 14-1 rout that was shortened to seven innings by run rule.

- With the win, the Hokies at the time moved back into the top 50 of the NCAA Division I RPI.

- Rookie catcher Brody Donay hit his first career grand slam, capping Tech's seven-run third inning. Donay became the Hokies' fifth player (second freshman) to hit a grand slam this season. As a team, Tech has totaled six grand slams this year.

HOKIES BOWL OVER BOWLING GREEN

- Virginia Tech combined to outscore Bowling Green, 25-2, during the teams' May 6 doubleheader at English Field.

- The Hokies led the Falcons, 3-2, going into the bottom of the eighth inning of the opening game before proceeding to plate 10 runs - Tech's best offensive inning of the 2023 season.

- Fourth-year outfielder Carson Jones combined to bat 7-for-9 during the doubleheader with two doubles, two home runs and four RBIs.

- Tech has now won 12 consecutive regular season weekend series against non-conference opponents (excludes non-conference tournaments and/or round robins), dating back to its March 2019 weekend series loss to Bryant at English Field.

- The Hokies' strength of schedule ranks No. 48 nationally.

- Tech is 5-12 against the RPI top 25 and 8-12 against the RPI top 50:

TECH SCORES RARE SHUTOUT AGAINST UNC

- Virginia Tech's 7-0 win against North Carolina on April 28 marked the program's first shutout against the Tar Heels since the 1974 season.

- Right-hand starter Anthony Arguelles delivered seven and one-third innings for the Hokies, tying his career long during his three NCAA Division I seasons. Arguelles also matched his career high in strikeouts at the NCAA Division I level (seven).

- Right-hand reliever Brady Kirtner posted five hitless outs behind Arguelles, finishing the shutout performance.

HOKIES STEAL MIDWEEK WIN AGAINST JMU

- Virginia Tech's 7-5 victory against James Madison on April 25 marked its first come-from-behind win of the season when trailing after seven innings. Before their result, the Hokies had been 0-12 when trailing after seven innings of play (JMU had led, 5-3).

- Tech's winning sequence was rather extraordinary, considering Carson DeMartini was caught stealing at second base for the second out of the eighth inning, emptying the bases. After sophomore Christian Martin's shallow double had dropped into left field, the Hokies received five consecutive free bases (including four walks, a hit batsman and a balk) on its way to completing a remarkable comeback.

MAKING THE MOST OF ONE'S MOMENT

- Fifth-year infielder David Bryant enters play against Wake Forest having made 16 of his last 17 starts at third base. He replaces primary starter Carson DeMartini, who has moved to the role of the Hokies' designated hitter, allowing him to ease back from a hard slide into second base sustained against Georgia Tech (April 14).

- Considering his four seasons at Radford, Bryant made only 16 of his 143 starts at third base.

- Since starting at third base on April 15, he has four home runs (including his first career multi-homer game on April 16 against Georgia Tech), hit for the cycle (April 21 at Florida State) and factored into a number of highlight defensive plays, such as his 5-3 and 8-5 double plays against the Seminoles.

TECH TRIUMPH IN TALLAHASSEE

- Virginia Tech's series victory at Florida State marked the program's first true road series win against the Seminoles since the 2010 season.

- On April 21, the Hokies scored 24 runs, tying for the most runs scored against Florida State all-time (Clemson, 1959).

- Right-hand starter Drue Hackenberg pitched Tech's first complete game victory since the 2019 season, setting a career high with 12 strikeouts. For his success, Hackenberg was named the ACC Pitcher of the Week.

John Szeffc – the 2022 ACC Coach of the Year and ABCA/A TEC Atlantic Regional Coach of the Year – enters his sixth season as the head baseball coach at Virginia Tech and his 18th season as an NCAA Division I baseball head coach. He was hired by Virginia Tech Director of Athletics Whit Babcock on June 9, 2017, following five defining seasons as the head baseball coach at Maryland.

A name synonymous with winning, Szeffc has coached his teams to 11 seasons of 30-plus victories, including four 40-win campaigns. He has guided three programs to eight NCAA Regional appearances – Marist (1997, 2000-02), Maryland (2014, 2015, 2017), Virginia Tech (2022) – while advancing his clubs to three NCAA Super Regionals – Maryland (2014, 2015), Virginia Tech (2022).

Through 17 head coaching seasons, Szeffc has achieved a performance record of 522-363-4, equivalent to a .589 career winning percentage. On April 15, 2022, he celebrated his 500th career head coaching victory by leading Virginia Tech to its emphatic, 13-2, series-clinching victory against No. 2* Miami, a result that would soon vault the Hokies into D1Baseball's top 10 rankings for the first time during their history.

During his first five seasons at Virginia Tech, Szeffc has compiled a 130-104 record in Blacksburg (.556 winning percentage), accented by the program's historic 2022 season.

Among Tech's notable 2022 feats, the Hokies won 45 games – their fourth highest single-season wins total all-time – setting program records in both ACC series victories (nine, as won consecutively) and ACC regular season wins (19). Tech spent eight consecutive weeks ranked in D1Baseball's top 25 poll, including seven straight weeks inside the top 10, peaking on May 23 as the consensus No. 2-ranked program by college baseball's six leading national publications.

Under Szeffc's direction, Virginia Tech championed the ACC Coastal Division for the first time during its 18-year league tenure, locked up the No. 1 seed at the ACC Baseball Championship with the conference's best regular season record and earned the No. 4 national seed in the NCAA Division I Baseball Championship, presenting the Hokies with their first home NCAA Regional since 2013. In front of historic crowds, Tech swept its competition at the NCAA Blacksburg Regional to win the program's first regional title, punching its first ticket to NCAA Super Regional weekend featuring a top-10 matchup against No. 9* Oklahoma.

Behind Szeffc's 2022 success, he mentored Virginia Tech's most decorated All-American class to date, celebrating in 13 combined honors for shortstop Tanner Schobel (six), sophomore outfielder Jack Hurley (four), freshman pitcher Drue Hackenberg (two) and third-year outfielder Gavin Cross (one). Additionally, he placed five student-athletes onto ABCA/Rawlings Atlantic All-Region Teams (tying for the fourth most all-region selections nationally) while setting a program record with eight ACC all-conference honorees, including four All-ACC First Team nods.

During the 2022 MLB Draft, Szeffc produced Virginia Tech's highest all-time selection in Gavin Cross, who was taken at No. 9 overall by the Kansas City Royals. In total, six members of Tech's 2022 roster inked pro contracts at season's end with four of the Hokies' five MLB Draft picks coming off the board during the opening five rounds.

2018 season, Szeffc has coached 16 MLB Draft picks, including seven players who have earned selection during the opening 10 rounds. He has mentored six All-Americans, three Freshman All-Americans and eight All-ACC honorees (nine awards).

Szeffc's first four seasons at Virginia Tech were highlighted by great outlook and turnaround. During the 2021 season, the Hokies debuted in D1Baseball's top 25 rankings for the first time during the outlet's history, staying up for seven weeks and peaking at No. 17 (April 12).

By 2020, Szeffc had Tech on the verge of a breakthrough season, despite the COVID-19 pandemic wiping out the Hokies' window of opportunity. Led by All-Americans and MLB Draft products Carson Taylor (catcher) Ian Seymour (pitcher), Tech posted an 11-5 record before the shutdown.

Prior to his tenure in Blacksburg, Szeffc led Maryland to three NCAA appearances during his five seasons at the helm of the Terrapins, achieving a 180-122 record (.596 winning percentage). He became the first Maryland baseball coach to lead the Terrapins to the NCAA Super Regional round, accomplishing the feat twice behind the program's first two 40-win seasons and its first two NCAA Regional crowns.

Nationally, Szeffc's Maryland teams achieved the program's highest year-end rankings, placing No. 14 nationally at the conclusion of the 2014 and 2015 seasons. He also led the Terrapins to their first ACC tournament final in 38 years (2014), returning to the conference final during the program's 2015 debut at the Big Ten tournament.

Szeffc's head coaching start was earned in 1996 at Marist, where he led the Red Foxes to four conference championships, four NCAA Regional appearances and a 212-137-4 record (.606 winning percentage). At Marist, he was named the 1997 Northeastern Conference Coach of the Year, later collecting 2001 ABCA Northeast Region Coach of the Year honors.

Between head coaching stints, Szeffc enjoyed a six-season tenure as the assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Louisiana-Lafayette (2003-08) under the late, legendary head coach Tony Robichaux. Continuing on, he became the assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator at Kansas (2009-10) before transitioning in-state to serve as the associate head coach and recruiting coordinator at Kansas State (2011-12).

Szeffc began his coaching career with assistant coach titles at Sacred Heart (1995) and at Drexel (1990-93). He also managed the New York Generals in the Atlantic College Baseball League (ACBL) during the summers of 1995 and 1996, leading the club to a 47-28 record, two consecutive division titles and the 1996 ACBL championship game.

Collegiately, Szeffc played two years at Connecticut before transferring in 1987 to Drexel. During his senior campaign with the Dragons, he was tabbed an All-East Coast Conference outfielder.

A native of Middletown, New York, Szeffc graduated from Drexel in 1989 with his bachelor's degree in corporate communications. He also holds a master's degree in sports administration from Temple.

For the second time during his career, Elbin led his offensive unit to the NCAA Super Regional round as Virginia Tech championed the ACC Coastal Division and the NCAA Blacksburg Regional. The Hokies posted a 45-14 record behind the nation's second highest slugging percentage (.574), its 11th best batting average (.309) and 18th best on-base percentage (.407).

Elbin's "Hammerin' Hokies" raked 126 home runs, ranking as the fifth most in the country (2.14 per game). Seven Hokies totaled double-digit home runs, led by sophomore shortstop Tanner Schobel (19), third-year outfielder Gavin Cross (17) and third-year catcher Cade Hunter (17).

As recruiting coordinator, Elbin witnessed Tech produce eight All-ACC honorees while the program hailed its most decorated All-American class to date, featuring Tanner Schobel (six-time selection), Jack Hurley (four-time), Drue Hackenberg (two-time) and Gavin Cross. Additionally, Hurley and Hackenberg were invited to the 2022 USA Baseball Collegiate National Team training camp with Hurley advancing to the international roster in Europe.

During the 2022 MLB Draft, Elbin saw four position players come off the board through the opening five rounds, headlined by Gavin Cross becoming Tech's highest all-time selection at No. 9 overall (Kansas City Royals). Tanner Schobel followed at No. 68 overall while Nick Biddison and Cade Hunter were chosen during the fourth and fifth rounds, respectively.

TYLER HANSON

ASSISTANT COACH, CATCHERS & SCOUTING

Tyler Hanson enters his fifth season on the Virginia Tech baseball coaching staff, having arrived in June 2018 as the Hokies' volunteer assistant coach. In June 2022, he was elevated to the title of assistant coach, catchers and scouting.

In his current role, Hanson specializes in the development of Tech's battery, assists with the offense and handles the day-to-day operations of the program's baseball camps. Before joining the Hokies, he served as the assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Eastern Kentucky for three seasons (2016-18).

With Hanson on staff, Tech has become a destination for catchers and has consistently placed among the best pitching staffs in the ACC. Since making his way to Blacksburg, he has placed two catchers on the Buster Posey National Collegiate Catcher of the Year Award watch list - Carson Taylor (2020) and Cade Hunter (2022) - with Hunter earning national semifinalist recognition in 2022.

Hanson's work with Hunter was key to Virginia Tech's historic 2022 season that culminated with the program's first ACC Coastal Division title and NCAA Regional championship. As the Hokies' starting backstop, he batted .330 and slugged .637 with 14 doubles, 17 home runs and 66 RBIs while responsible for catching 11 runners stealing.
